FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

ADVICES TO MAY 24TH BY THE CREOLE

Commencement of the Siege of Port Hudson.

PRELIMINARY FIGHTING.

The Rebels Defeated by Gen. Augur and Driven within their Intrenchments.

A Successful Expedition from Pass Manchac.

COL. GRIERSON AT WORK AGAIN.

Extensive Destruction of Bridges, Stations, &c., on the Jackson Railroad.

The steamship Creole, COUCH, from New-Orleans May 24, via Havana 28th, with merchandise and passengers to LUDLAM, HEINEKEN & Co., arrived yesterday. She experienced in the Gulf a heavy southeast gale of sixty hours' duration, and has had heavy southeast winds, with squalls of rain, since leaving Havana.

June 1, THEODORE KLUSEN, a seaman, fell from the topgallant yard, striking a passenger, Mr. HENRY REED, of Lowell, Mass., on the back, receiving severe internal injuries. Mr. REED was not seriously injured. The passengers, with praiseworthy benevolence, immediately subscribed a large sum of money for the benefit of the injured seaman.

The Creole was detained three days by the Government to transport troops to Port Hudson.

The steamer Geo. Cromwell, also advertised to leave on the 24th, was taken by the Government on the evening of the 23d for the same purpose.

Col. DAVIS, of the First Texas cavalry, had made an expedition from Pass Manchac, striking the Jackson Railroad at Tickfaw Station, and destroyed every bridge and all the station-houses, including that across the Tangipaha River, as far as Camp Moore. At Independence a large car-factory, with a number of gun-carriages, was burned, and one Lieutenant and forty-three men were captured.

The object of these movements is pretty clearly indicated in the appended important communication to the Era, dated Port Hudson Plains, May 22, which announces the opening engagement of the siege of the famous rebel stronghold.

On the 21st AUGUR's whole division was engaged in a nine hours' fight with the enemy. The battle-field was Port Hudson Plains, four miles in the rear of Port Hudson, on the Bayou Sara road. The rebels were thoroughly whipped. They had one brigade of infantry engaged, besides two batteries and a considerable force of cavalry. They had ambuscaded every outlet from the plains. They were finally repulsed with heavy loss, leaving a large number of killed and wounded on the field.

A flag of truce was sent in at midnight from Gen. GARDNER, asking permission to bury the dead. We took about 100 prisoners. The enemy was driven three miles from his first position, and AUGUR's division bivouacked for the night on the field of battle. Our loss in killed is 12, and wounded 56. The One Hundred and Sixteenth New-York and Second Louisiana suffered the most.

Our men fought with unparalleled bravery.

We are indebted to the Purser of the Creole for prompt delivery of our news packages.

THE SIEGE OF PORT HUDSON.

AN IMPORTANT RECONNOISSANCE—COL. GRIERSON AGAIN AT WORK.

A letter to the Era, dated at Baton Rouge, May 14, details a reconnoissance in the rear of Port Hudson, made by Gen. DUDLEY. On the morning of May 12, the column started in the following order:

Capt. GODFREY's company of Massachusetts cavalry started in advance. His cavalry was supported by two companies of skirmishers, who were followed by the pioneers and two sections of ARNOLD's Fifth United States Artillery. The infantry column was headed by the Thirtieth Massachusetts Regiment, Col. W. W. BULLOCK, and the Second Louisiana Regiment, Col. PAINE. These two regiments formed the First Brigade, commanded by Col. PAINE.

The Second Brigade came in the following order: The One Hundred and Seventy-fourth New-York regiment, Lieut.-Col. GALT commanding; One Hundred and Sixty-first New-York regiment, Col. HARROVER; and the Fiftieth Massachusetts regiment, Col. MESSER. A section of the Fifth United States artillery accompanied this force, which was commanded by Col. MESSER, of the Fiftieth Massachusetts.

A rear-guard of six companies followed, under command of Maj. STRAUM, of the One Hundred and Sixty-first New-York regiment. The wagon trains were under the good management of Capt. F. H. WHITTIER, Brigade Quartermaster, on Gen. DUDLEY's Staff. Dr. GEORGE KELLOGG, acting Medical Director, had the direction of the ambulances. At precisely 4 o'clock A. M., of the 12th inst., according to orders from Gen. AUGUR, commenced

THE ADVANCE.

It was a noticeable feature that the line was formed, and the whole force on the way at just the minute ordered. The advance from Baton Rouge proceeded up the Clinton road. The advance was without incident until a halt was made, when about eight miles out from the city.

DESERTERS IN THE BUSH.

While a small party with Assistant Adjutant-Gen. SPEED was taking rest by the roadside, suddenly a man jumped out of the bushes near by and surrendered himself to Capt. SPEED.

Upon being assured of his safety, he called out four more men who had been lying in concealment with him. They were deserters from the garrison at Port Hudson. It appears that they were in the Commissary Department, but having a row with some of their officers, they were put in the guard-house, whence they absconded, and fled for the Federal lines.

They reported that the issue of beef, two days before, at Port Hudson, was for 4,300 men. Beef cattle are pressed in from the plantations near at hand. They said the rebels had two steamers for the transportation of supplies across the river, but that one of them had been recently disabled, and the other was very little used. Gen. GARDNER has returned to Port Hudson. It is believed the rebels are in readiness to evacuate the place, as troops are coming and going constantly.

At White's Creek, on the Clinton road, the rebels were driven back, after a brisk skirmish, and then this force crossed over to the Bayou Sara road.

At about dusk on Tuesday afternoon, May 12, Col. GRIERSON, with portions of the Sixth and Seventh Illinois cavalry, arrived on the field. Many of his horses having to be shod, he was compelled to wait until 5 o'clock P. M., before leaving Baton Rouge.

His men were encamped to the rear of Mr. MERRITT's place.

On Wednesday, the column was in motion at an early hour. The first event of the day was a reconnoissance by Capt. GODFREY, which was made on a cross-road leading from the plains toward Port Hudson, and back by the Springfield road, coming to the rear of the column at the church.

The rebel pickets were driven into Port Hudson, and Capt. G. went within two miles of the place. A complete reconnoissance of the country was effected, and it was found that several bridges were impassable by a large force.

Col. GRIERSON's command started at an early hour in the morning, for the purpose of severing the railroad and telegraphic communication between Port Hudson and Clinton. When a little way above the plains, they came upon the rebel cavalry, and drove them in before them.

Arriving near the railroad, about a hundred head of cattle and a rebel camp, with tents pitched, were discovered, the whole under a strong guard. "Charge!" was the order, and in about five minutes several of the enemy bit the dust; others were wounded, the tents were burned up, and a battalion, under Capt. PIERCE, was on its way to the railroad.

When they reached it, the men dismounted, tore up the rails, which were of flat iron, dug up the sleepers, and burned both for about three hundred yards. The telegraph wires were cut for some distance, and then the cavalry retired. No trestle work or bridge was near the point, or they would have been destroyed. As it is, it will take some time to repair the damage.

A force of 900 infantry, two companies of flying artillery and a regiment of cavalry was formed against Col. GRIERSON's command, but as Gen. DUDLEY did not advance the infantry above the plains, three miles below, he did not engage the enemy. From deserters and prisoners it was found that there was a considerable force at Clinton. Letters were found which made it certain, both that the rebels had made some preparations for evacuating the fortifications and, also, that they had massed troops near Clinton.

It is a matter to be wondered at that the enemy, apparently, has so little force in this section of country. If the force is not small, it certainly cannot claim any merit for courage in allowing their mainstay of provisions to be plucked from under their own batteries.

Besides the acquisition of the most important and encouraging information, it may be stated that the country about Port Hudson is now so circumvented that its occupation by our forces is not so difficult as has been imagined.

On May 19 Gen. DUDLEY's brigade made another reconnoissance, pushing its way to within a mile and a half of the rebel works, but failing to force an engagement.

A PRELIMINARY ENGAGEMENT.

Correspondence of the New-Orleans Era.

BATTLE-FIELD, PORT HUDSON PLAINS,
Friday, May 22, 1863.

At last an attack, which promises to be decisive, is in progress against Port Hudson. Our army has reached the precincts of this famous stronghold, and won a victory in the first engagement with the rebel garrison. Major-Gen. AUGUR's division, yesterday, fought the enemy nine hours, in a region of the greatest natural advantages for ambuscades, and drove him three miles from his first position, bivouacking at night at the utmost limits of the advance.

THE FIELD OF BATTLE.

The field of battle was on Port Hudson Plains. These are two open tracks of smooth country four miles east of Port Hudson. The lower plains are a mile across, each way, lying on either side of the Bayou Sara road. The upper plains extend for half a mile north and south, and a fourth of a mile in width on the same road. A cross road runs in a northwesterly direction from the lower plains to Port Hudson, and another one in a westerly direction, from the upper ones. On all sides a dense forest hems in the two fields. Nature could have given the rebels no better position to ambush and cut off or destroy an army, than there is here. But Gen. AUGUR has effectually prevented this disaster by his vigorous movements, and no danger from such a source need now be anticipated. If the enemy flank our forces, they can be ambushed, and made to suffer severely.

A FORWARD MOVEMENT.

The first general engagement with the enemy occurred on Friday, the 21st inst. At 8 o'clock in the morning the bivouac station on the Bayou Sara road was broken up, and the troops resumed the march, which was commenced at Baton Rouge at 4 o'clock on the previous day. Maj.-Gen. AUGUR was in chief command, Gen. DUDLEY's brigade heading the column, and Gen. CHAPIN's coming next in order. The constant passage of troops and trains up and down the road, for several days previous, had created a thick layer of dust, which, combined with the heat, somewhat lessened the comfort of the men. As some of them remarked, they thought they should eat their peck of dirt before they reached the battle-field.

Every one, however, seemed willing to put up with any inconveniences, so long as Port Hudson was his destination. The men want to see that place fall, and frequently express their willingness to run the risk of carrying it at the point of the bayonet. But they quickly had

AN INKLING OF COMING EVENTS.

Capt. GODFREY and Capt. YEATON, of the First Louisiana cavalry, were a half a mile ahead of the column, with their companies, when, upon reaching the first woods above the lower plains, they met a small force of mounted rebel infantry, with which they had a brisk skirmish. The rebels ambushed the two companies at a bend in the road, but retreated after firing a volley and receiving the fire of the advance guard. No further opposition was made to the progress of the column until the cavalry reached Redwood Cross-road, a short distance below the upper plains. At this point the rebels were drawn up in line of battle. The advance guard fired upon them, when they returned the fire, and then ran precipitately into the woods. Our cavalry advanced as far as the upper plains, where the rebel cavalry were seen at the upper end of the opening. Their appearance excited suspicion that they were strongly supported. Company D, of the Thirtieth Massachusetts, was deployed as skirmishers in the open field, and quickly drew a musketry fire from the enemy. Our men replied with a volley, and fought for three-quarters of an hour before they had orders to retire. During the skirmish Lieut. F. M. NORCROSS, of this company, was shot through the right foot. As soon as Gen. AUGUR ascertained the rebel position immediate preparations were made for

A WARM ENGAGEMENT.

One section of Battery G, Fifth United States artillery, Lieut. RAWLES commanding, was at once sent forward to shell the rebel position. It was posted at a sharp bend in the road, with a dense forest on either side, but an open area to the front as far as the "Plains Store," near which were a dwelling-house and some negro shanties. Our artillery had hardly taken position when two shells came plunging down directly in front of the gun. Then commenced a heavy cannonading, which was maintained with great vigor on both sides. Another section of the Fifth regular artillery was quickly brought forward, and at once opened fire. One section of the Eighteenth New-York and two sections of the Second Vermont batteries were also brought up, and joined in the engagement. The enemy had a favorable position for accurate firing, but their shot and shell did but little harm in proportion to the advantage they had.

THE SECOND LOUISIANA REGIMENT ENGAGED.

While our batteries were keeping up an incessant fire, the Second Louisiana regiment, Col. PAINE, was sent out through the woods to flank the rebel battery on the right. But after going three-quarters of a mile through the woods, they suddenly came upon a force of rebels, who were waiting their approach, closely concealed in the dense thicket. They were not seen until they fired a volley, which killed two men and wounded Lieut.-Col. EVERETT and two privates. The men gallantly stood their ground and calmly returned their fire. Two companies were quickly deployed as skirmishers and sent out in advance. The rebels were disconcerted by the shower of bullets which flew among them, and commenced to retreat. They were followed up, and the skirmishers succeeded in flanking the battery, which immediately limbered to the rear.

THE THIRTIETH MASSACHUSETTS TO THE RESCUE.

The Thirtieth Massachusetts regiment, Col. W. W. BULLOCK, which had the right of Gen. DUDLEY's brigade, deployed four companies as skirmishers, under command of Major H. O. WHITTEMORE. They deployed both to the right and left of the road. On the right the skirmishers were covered by cavalry. They were the first of the infantry to discover the enemy in ambush near the Plains Store, and remained by the bend in the road, with our batteries supporting them, while the Second Louisiana were trying to flank the rebel position.

While the section of the Eighteenth New-York battery was in the action, the two lead horses were killed by a solid shot, and Sergt. MCCONNELL, in command, ordered a left reserve, when the other horses became unmanageable and broke the pole. With the assistance of some of the skirmishers of the Thirtieth Massachusetts, the piece was taken to the rear in safety. The One Hundred and Sixty-first New-York regiment, Col. G. T. HARROVER, was ordered to support the Eighteenth New-York battery, when it first opened fire on the enemy. It remained on the right of the battery during the engagement.

The fight was ended as soon as the Second Louisiana skirmishers flanked the rebel battery. The rebels, with their artillery and supporting force, then retreated for about half a mile further up the road, and our troops advanced to the position just abandoned by them.

Upon reaching the Plains Store, detachments of the Illinois cavalry were sent out toward the Clinton road to look out for any flanking force the rebels might have in that direction. They found about 150 infantry and cavalry lying in ambush, and made a charge upon them, discharging their carbines and revolvers so rapidly that the rebels had to retreat without time to give a full volley in return. Several of the enemy were killed, but our cavalry had no further casualties than the loss of two horses. The departure of a courier compels me to cut short my report at this point. HORATIUS.

ARREST OF THE REBEL GOVERNOR OF LOUISIANA.

Ex-Gov. MOORE, of Louisiana, was arrested some weeks since by the Provost-Marshal of Plaquemine Parish, La., and taken to New-Orleans, where he remains in military custody. The Era says:

"The capture of THOMAS O. MOORE, the itinerant Governor of this State, next to that of ALEXANDER MOUTON, is probably the most important that could have been made. He has been a conspicuous counsellor of treason for a number of years, and it is just and proper that he and men of his stamp, should be held to a strict accountability for the evils they have contributed to bring upon this city, this State and this country.

AFFAIRS IN NEW-ORLEANS.

Gen. Augur's Movements—The Negro Troops—Intelligence from Texas—Physicians Prevented from Leaving with the Registered Enemies—Death of Dr. Cartwright—Expatriated.

Correspondence of the New-York Times.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sunday, May 24, 1863.

The arrival of the steamer from above brings us intelligence that Gen. AUGUR, with his forces, is within two miles of Port Hudson, having driven the enemy's pickets in, with some skirmishing. He now holds them in check, and in all probability a general engagement has ere this taken place for the reduction of Port Hudson and the opening of the Mississippi, so as to admit the transportation of supplies from this place to above. We wait with much anxiety the report of their officers, which has been transmitted to Washington, and which, it is understood, will be given to the public from headquarters here.

The steamer Tennessee has arrived here, bringing intelligence from Galveston to May 23. She states that the health of the blockading fleet is good. The most important item of news which she brings is that of the destruction of the blockade-runner West Florida. This smuggler was destroyed on Sunday, the 10th inst., by the Owasco, Lieutenant-Commanding JOHN MADIGAN, and the Katahdin, Lieutenant-Commanding P. C. JOHNSON. After a chase of twenty miles, these gunboats succeeded in running her ashore on Galveston Island, and, though the sea was breaking heavily against the beach, boarded in small boats and set her on fire. An old log-book found on board clearly proved her to be the West Florida, though her cargo was marked "Hanover," and very likely she cleared under that name. She was evidently trying to get into St. Louis Pass, and had got within four miles of it, but the shell from the Owasco soon made her bear up for the beach. The West Florida has been seized several times under very suspicious circumstances. Once last Summer she cleared for Matamoras, and was caught by the Kensington inside Sabine Pass. By some means she was not confiscated, but set at liberty to run the blockade again, which she has been improving since. Thanks to the vigilance of the gunboats, we are rid of the pest.

From Texas papers we learn that Gen. MAGRUDER has recently been making a tour of his department. He has unqualifiedly revoked all cotton orders heretofore issued, and the exportation of the staple is to be unrestricted hereafter, save by our blockaders. Gov. LOPEZ, of Tamaulipas, recently paid Gen. MAGRUDER a complimentary visit at his headquarters in Brownsville, and was received with all the honors.

Ex-Gov. MOUTON was taken into custody at his home near Vermillionville, on May 2, by Capt. SILVEY, of the One Hundred and Thirty-third New-York, Provost-Marshal of Plaquemine Parish. Twenty men from the Rhode Island cavalry, under Capt. HOOKER, made the arrest, which was effected without trouble. The Ex-Governor, with the single servant who was permitted to accompany him, is now in the custody of Capt. KELTON, Provost-Marshal of New-Orleans. Gov. MOUTON has taken so prominent a part in the rebellion that his apprehension is most gratifying to all loyalists.

We have had all kinds of rumors flying around during the last few days. Among them is one to the effect that ROSECRANS has beaten BRAGG in a great battle, and another that Fort Morgan, below Mobile, has been surrendered to our forces. Both reports lack confirmation at the present writing.

There is still trouble with refractory school teachers, who need to be corrected by their superiors oftener than they chastise their pupils. Some of the scholars who attend the Jesuit school at the Church of the Immaculate Conception have recently displayed their rebellious training so obnoxiously that one of them was taken into custody, when a book which he had with him was found profusely illustrated with various Confederate emblems. This led to an examination, when a large number of the books in possession of the pupils were found to contain real emblems and other seditious characters and remarks. The principal of the school was very indignant; informed the officer that the school was under French protection, and that the matter should be at once laid before the French Consul. He took down the name of Officer FORD, who gave it to him without a proper fear of the terrible consequences. An examination showed that the same state of affairs existed in the private school of a Mr. BLACKAMON. He asserted that it was impossible for him to keep so strict a surveillance over his pupils as to prevent them from drawing these emblems in their books. The Court considered him responsible, however, and he was fined $250. He said he was not able to pay the fine, and there the matter rests at present.

On the 15th eighty-one registered enemies were taken over to Pass Christian, a noted watering-place below Bay St. Louis, where they were turned loose. Major CARR, of the Second Battalion, Duryee Zouaves, formerly an attache of the TIMES, was in charge of the company. Some forty applications by resident physicians for permission to depart on the 20th among the registered enemies were refused. They are to be retained in case of an epidemic. Among them is Dr. WARREN STONE, a celebrated surgeon.

The Jackson Appeal, I observe, announces the death of Dr. SAMUEL A. CARTWRIGHT, near Jackson, on the 2d inst. Dr. CARTWRIGHT was once an eminent physician of this city, but like many others, he became infatuated with secessionism, after which his days of real usefulness seem to have come to a close. During JEFF. DAVIS' illness at Richmond last year, he sent for Dr. CARTWRIGHT, who left this city and proceeded to Richmond and remained until the eminent rebel was convalescent, when he returned to near Natchez, where he has a cotton plantation. His property in this city will be confiscated, of course. He was a great admirer and an intimate friend of HENRY CLAY, and wrote many political articles during the contest for Presidency between JAMES K. POLK and HENRY CLAY.

By an order from headquarters, the issue of an extra from the True Delta of Monday, 11th inst., containing news (through Southern sources,) of FORREST's raid in the West, was suppressed, the objectionable part being headed, "Hurrah for Forest's Victory," in large type. It is said the explanation was that the line in question was introduced by the compositor without the knowledge of the editors. The paper was finally issued with the objectionable part suppressed.

The withdrawal of all the Union troops from Franklin, New Iberia and Opelousas for the advance to Alexandria, has left the Union planters and citizens in that region without protection, and many who came to New-Orleans for provisions and other necessities for their starving families, are now here, and have warning not to return, as the guerrillas have returned and are kidnapping citizens and committing raids on their property. JOHN C. WHITE, the editor of the Franklin Register, (formerly editor of the Franklin Banner,) a good Union man, is here, and has been detained for ten days, endeavoring to get a pass and to carry some provisions to his starving family there, but without success. HENRY LAURENCE BIRD, owner of Brashear City, and many others, are here, the family without provisions, the guerrillas having taken LAWRENCE's stock and robbed his place of all provisions, &c. Many who have taken the oath of allegiance there are now in daily dread of their lives. Capt. DARDIN, a large planter near Thebodeauxville, is also here. No passes are for the present given to go out.

The following important order has been issued by Gov. SHEPLEY:

STATE OF LOUISIANA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT,
NEW-ORLEANS, May 12, 1863.

GENERAL ORDER No. 22.—1. The act of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, approved March 6, 1857, entitled "An act to prohibit the emancipation of slaves," never having been adopted or sanctioned by the military authorities, and being inconsistent with the principles which control the policy of the Government, is hereby declared to have been without force or effect since the occupation of Louisiana by the forces of the United States on the 25th day of April, A. D. 1862.

Since the said occupation all owners and persons legally empowered to act in the place of such owners of slaves have had, and shall continue to have, the right to emancipate their slaves on petition to any Court of Record.

2. Any person held as a slave, and being legally entitled to freedom, may bring a suit for his or her freedom in any Court of Record against the person claiming or holding him or her as a slave.

By order of Brig.-Gen. G. F. SHEPLEY,
Military Governor of Louisiana.
JAMES F. MILLER, A. A. General.

A letter from Brashear City, dated May 22, published in the Era, states that the Louisiana Belle while going from Washington to Brashear City with a cargo of cotton, which she had taken on board at the former place, was fired into by guerrillas, who were in ambush. The following were the casualties in Company B, Fourth Massachusetts, which was in charge of the Island Belle.

KILLED.

Capt. Alexander, of the Louisiana Belle.

WOUNDED.

Sergt. J. H. Morgan—right arm.	T. M. Butler—dangerously.
Corp. J. P. Wells—both limbs.	Warren Sargent—seriously.
E. Bradshaw—dangerously.	C. Shaw—seriously.
R. Shepard—dangerously.	T. Cleary—limb.
	T. C. Butler—face.
	Corp. D. E. Keily—slightly.

The steamer Creole, having on board portions of the Fifteenth New-Hampshire, Twenty-sixth Connecticut, One Hundred and Twenty-eighth New-York, and Sixth Michigan regiments, while going up the river on the 21st, came in collision with the Morning Light. The Morning Light struck the Creole on her port side, carrying away her own bow, and causing her to sink. The disabled steamer was run into the left bank of the river, and the people on board escaped to the shore.

Much anxiety is felt for the safety of the United States transport steamer Quincy, past due, (left New-York on the 6th inst.,) with several mails on board.

NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

The Gunboat Alert Accidentally Sunk.

Capture of the Steamer Eagle, Blockade Runner.

Destructive Fire at Wilmington, N. C

FORTRESS MONROE, Monday, June 1.

The steamer Emilie, from Newbern on the 31st ult., arrived this morning. She reports all quiet in that Department.

The gunboat Alert, lying at the Norfolk Navy-yard, took fire about 7 o'clock last evening. The fire soon got to her magazine and exploded a shell, which went through her bottom, and she sunk immediately. No one was injured.

The flag-of-truce steamer State of Maine, Capt. JOHN E. MULFORD, has arrived.

Richmond papers contain nothing new from Vicksburgh.

The Richmond Dispatch, of May 30, contains the following:

"One hundred and twelve Yankee prisoners were received at the Libby Prison yesterday from Knoxville, Tenn., and Jackson, Miss."

The Charleston Courier of the 26th ult. contains the following:

"On Wednesday last the steamer Eagle left Nassau for a Confederate port. During the night she was fired into and captured by a Yankee cruiser. The second shot killed three of her crew. The officer of the Eagle took the Yankee gunboat for the British steamer Flora, and under that impression allowed the cruiser to get near her. This report reached here on Monday by the steamer Britannia, from Nassau."

From the Richmond Dispatch of May 28, we extract the following:

"Three Yankee gunboats visited Murfreesboro, North Carolina, on Sunday, and stole 20,000 lbs. of bacon and all the apple brandy they could find in the place. They receipted for the brandy, but declined to give any voucher for the bacon.

A fire at Wilmington, North Carolina, on the 27th, destroyed a large warehouse filled with spirits of turpentine and 1,500 bales of cotton. The latter mostly belonged to the Government. The loss is believed to be very heavy."

IMPORTANT FROM ALABAMA.

The Rebels Under Roddy Defeated by Col. Cornyn at Florence.

Capture of 100 Men, 8 Officers, 400 Mules, 300 Negroes, &c.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, June 2.

Col. CORNYN defeated Gen. RODDY at Florence, Ala., on the 27th of May, capturing 100 men, 8 officers, 400 mules, and 300 negroes.

Marching northward, Col. CORNYN destroyed foundries, mills, and everything else useful to the enemy that he could lay his hands on.

DEPARTMENT OF THE CUMBERLAND

Compensated Labor—Movements of the Rebels—Affairs at Nashville, &c.

MURFREESBORO, Tuesday, June 2.

Gen. PAYNE writes from Gallatin to Gen. ROSECRANS that he has devised and put into effect a plan of changing slave labor in his Sub-Departments to compensated labor. Male negroes are hired out at $8, and females at $5 per month, to their former masters. Written contracts to this effect are entered into. The plan is working admirably, and Gen. PAYNE says that the overseers declare that they never had so much work done, nor half so well done, before.

There is no evidence of a conclusive nature that CLAIBORNE's division of BRAGG's army has been sent to Vicksburgh. Only the two old infantry divisions of BRECKINRIDGE and MCGOWAN, and the cavalry corps of FORREST, (formerly VAN DORN's,) are known to have gone, as has been stated.

Doubtless the entire divisions of WITHERS, CLAIBORNE and CHEATHAM, the infantry brigades of ANDERSON and JACKSON, and the cavalry divisions of WHEELER and WHARTON, are in our front.

NASHVILLE, Tuesday, June 2.

Brig.-Gen. R. S. GRANGER takes command of Nashville to-morrow. Gens. R. B. MITCHELL and JAMES D. MORGAN are ordered to the front. Gen. MITCHELL takes command of a cavalry division.

The rebel prisoners here leave to-morrow for Alton, Illinois.

The river is falling, with two feet scant of water on the shoals.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, June 2.

Official advices received to-day from Vicksburgh up to the 29th of May, indicate that there is no change in the state of affairs there; but that the prospects of Gen. GRANT are still encouraging.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

The Government's advices from Gen. GRANT bring down the narrative of events to last Friday, but give no further accounts of the fighting. The tone of the dispatches is cheerful.

Saturday's Richmond papers have no Vicksburgh news.

THE LATEST CHICAGO DISPATCHES.

CHICAGO, Tuesday, June 2.

A special dispatch from Memphis, dated the 1st instant, furnishes the following intelligence:

"The steamer Luminary arrived on Saturday night from below, with news from Vicksburgh to the 28th of May.

The gunboat Cincinnati was sunk by the fire from the rebel batteries at Vicksburgh, on the 26th of May, with a reported loss of over 20 killed and wounded.

Several of our men captured by the rebels have been paroled, on account of a scarcity of food.

THE LATEST CAIRO DISPATCHES.

CAIRO, Tuesday, June 2.

A dispatch boat from Vicksburgh, 27th, confirms the sinking of the gunboat Cincinnati by shot from the rebel batteries. She was ordered to move down the river, and when turning the point was opened on by several batteries from above, which were supposed to have been silenced. She managed to return to a point just above the upper battery, where she sunk in fifteen feet of water. From 15 to 40 are reported killed, drowned and wounded.

THE GUNBOAT CINCINNATI.

The United States gunboat Cincinnati, reported to have been sunk by the rebels at Vicksburgh, was an iron-clad vessel, 512 tons burden, third rate, armed with 13 guns. Her extreme length was 175 feet; breadth of beam, 51½ feet; depth of hold, 6 feet. Her armament consisted of 13 guns, of heavy metal. To afford greater security to her engines, &c., those portions surrounding them were iron-plated, each plate being 2½ inches thick. She cost $90,000. She was built very wide in proportion to her length, giving her almost the same steadiness in action that a stationary land battery would possess. The following is a list of her officers:

Lieutenant—GEORGE M. BACHE.
Acting Assistant Surgeon—Richard R. Hall.
Acting Assistant Paymaster—S. R. Hinsdale.
Acting Masters—John Pearce and Chas. Germain.
Acting Ensigns—A. F. O'Neil, G. L. Coleman and P. R. Starr.

THE REPORT OF A STAFF OFFICER.

A telegraphic summary of the statements of a Staff officer of one of the commanding Generals in GRANT's army, who left Vicksburgh on Wednesday last, as made to the Cincinnati Gazette, has already been given. We now have them more in detail. He states that Gen. GRANT is perfectly certain of his ability to take Vicksburgh, but says it will take time—perhaps a week longer, and perhaps two weeks. Three assaults have been made on the rebel works with heavy columns of our forces, in all of which we were repulsed. The last assault was made by Gen. SHERMAN with 20,000 men, and of that number 600 were killed and a large number wounded.

Gen. GRANT is now engaged in building works, with the view of taking the place by regular approaches. He is also mining some of the rebel works. Our outer line is within one hundred yards, at points, of the rebel works, and our sharpshooters prevent the rebels from working their heavy guns. He says the rebel works in the rear of the city are far more formidable than those on the front.

Gen. GRANT has been reinforced by a considerable portion of BANKS' forces, and more are coming. This officer states that Gen. JOHNSTON is still in the neighborhood of Jackson, Miss., gathering forces to attack GRANT's rear, but that he has not yet succeeded in obtaining 15,000 men, while he is short of both provisons and ammunition, and the roads having been destroyed he cannot obtain either.

It is certain that the Black River bridge has been destroyed, and it is positively known that JOHNSTON has not thrown any of his men across the river. Gen. GRANT has far more men guarding that river than JOHNSTON can gather up, and no apprehensions whatever are felt by Gen. GRANT or his division commanders of any serious attack in their rear.

Our gunboats were occasionally shelling Vicksburgh, and, the rebel water batteries having been silenced, the gunboats were not molested by the rebel guns.

This officer states that a flag of truce was sent into Vicksburgh to obtain the body of Capt. WASHINGTON, when the rebels fired on the flag and the men returned.

It is reported that Vicksburgh is short of water, the inhabitants and soldiers being compelled to rely on wells and cisterns in the city, they having been cut off from both the Mississippi and the Yazoo rivers, and that there was considerable distress on this account.

This officer states that there is no question but that GRANT will take Vicksburgh, and that it was only a question of time.

REPORTS BY WAY OF NEW-ORLEANS.

The steamer United States, from New-Orleans, brings an extra Era, issued on Sunday, the 24th of May, which contains the following dispatches:

DEPARTMENT OF THE GULF, U. S. TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
NEW-ORLEANS, May 24, 1863.

[BY TELEGRAPH FROM BATON ROUGE, MAY 23.]

To Gen. Emory, Commanding Defences of New-Orleans.

The following dispatch has just been received from Gen. AUGUR's headquarters.

L. GOODRICH, A. D. C.

HEADQUARTERS UNITED STATES FORCES,
NEAR PORT HUDSON, May 23.

The following good news has just been received from Col. GRIERSON:

We are half a mile north of the railroad.

We have formed a junction with the forces of Maj.-Gen. BANKS.

The news from Gen. GRANT is glorious.

He has cut Gen. JOHNSTON's forces to pieces at Jackson, capturing 61 pieces of artillery.

He has Vicksburgh so hemmed in that the enemy cannot use his siege guns.

(Official.) Maj.-Gen. AUGUR.
G. H. HALSTEAD, A. A. G.

SECOND DISPATCH.

HEADQUARTERS, PLAIN'S STORE, May 23, 1863.

To Capt. Goodrich, Baton Rouge:

Gen. GRANT has had a tremendous victory over JOHNSTON at Champion Hills, capturing over 6,000 prisoners and more than sixty pieces of artillery.

He has invested Vicksburgh, carried the first two lines of the city defences, and his right now rests upon the Mississippi River, from whence he receives supplies.

Altogether, Gen. GRANT has captured over one hundred pieces of artillery.

Deserters and prisoners report that Gen. PEMBERTON has been hanged by his own men.

(Signed,) C. C. AUGUR.

The Era of the 24th also contains the following:

"We learn on good authority that the military authorities of Mobile have called on the people to rally en masse, armed and equipped, for the defence of the city. This would indicate that Mobile is threatened by a Federal force. The rebel troops are said, however, to be withdrawing from the city."

REBEL REPORTS FROM THE MISSISSIPPI.

Gen. Banks Preparing for an Attack upon Port Hudson—Despairing of Vicksburgh.

The following paragraph is from the Richmond Dispatch of the 30th ult.:

"The telegraphic news of yesterday announced that BANKS had crossed his army at Bayou Sara. This is about ten miles above Port Hudson. His object is to get behind the post and carry it by a land attack. This movement is designed to finish the work started by GRANT, and clear the Mississippi. A few days will tell the story. The next news will probably be of an assault upon Port Hudson."

The Dispatch, in an editorial, says:

"The fate of Vicksburgh is still suspended in the balance. Our own telegraphs have been encouraging, but they lack the distinctness essential in such cases to bring entire relief to the public mind. The Yankee bulletins in the interim are unpleasantly detailed and specific. The suspense cannot long continue. The resistance has been from all accounts determined; and let us continue to hope and believe that it will be successful."

FROM MEXICO.

Arrival of the French Transport Finnesterre—The Reported Capture of Puebla Doubted by her Commander.

The French steam-transport Le Finnesterre, Commander CARDIN ESTENE, from Vera Cruz, May 19, arrived yesterday morning. She has a crew of 219 men, mounts six guns, is of 1,500 tons, and has a screw engine of 250-horse power.

Capt. CARDIN ESTENE doubts the news as published in yesterday's papers of the capture of Puebla, received by the Shelldrake. The latest news from the seat of the fighting received at Vera Cruz was to the 16th of May, and the Captain sailed on the 19th, when the French troops held one half of the city and the Mexicans the other. The part held by the latter was so strongly fortified that it would take a long time to take it.

Late and Correct Information from Mexico.

The following private letter which reached this port yesterday by the bark Mayflower, direct from Vera Cruz, has been placed in our hands for publication. It is from a gentleman of high business standing in Vera Cruz, and can be fully relied upon as giving the true situation as late as the 8th of May.

Whether so great a change as that purporting to have taken place by the news published yesterday, is likely to have occurred in so brief a period, our readers can judge for themselves:

VERA CRUZ, Friday, May 8, 1863.

The bark Mayflower leaves here to-day for New-York, and as she will doubtless arrive much earlier than the next steamer, I improve the opportunity to give you the latest news from Puebla.

On the 26th of April a grand assault was made by the French with a force numbering 16,000 men. The attack was made at three distinct points, viz: San Augustine, El Carmen and San Javier. They were repulsed and obliged to retire. Their loss was very large. One battalion lost 500 men.

Since this defeat no attempt has been made to renew the attack, and the French General has given notice that no further attacks will be made until the arrival of a seige battery and a fresh supply of ammunition from Vera Cruz. A convoy consisting of a battery of three guns and about thirty carts of ammunition left here yesterday for Puebla. The French are so short of powder and shot that they make no fire if they possibly can help it, and until the arrival of this convoy they can do nothing, and it is very doubtful if it ever arrives at Puebla.

The French admit themselves that since the 23d of March they have met with nothing but defeat. Their troops are discouraged and disappointed by these continual attacks and defeats, and they are no nearer the capture of the city than they were six months ago. Their loss of men, by desertion, sickness and battle, has been very large: they have not ammunition sufficient to sustain their present position long, much less make another attack, and all their supplies must be brought from Vera Cruz. The rainy season has already commenced, and you are well aware that it is almost impossible to transport anything, even in peaceful times, during this season, on account of the fearful condition of the roads. But now the roads are lined with Mexican guerrillas from the Tejeria to Orizaba. Gen. MILAN is within three miles of Tejeria, with 1,000 guerrillas, on the watch for the French convoy.

These brief points will give you a slight idea of the present condition of the French. It is most critical, and they are as well aware of it as any one else.

The Mexicans are in high spirits—and well they may be. They have lost all fear of the French, and have done most nobly. The manner in which they have defended Puebla has astonished everybody, and has won the admiration even of the French themselves. I should have no fear, from the present look of things, to wager that in three months from this time not a Frenchman will be found in this country. * * *

GEN. BLUNT'S DEPARTMENT.

The Rebels on the Arkansas.

The following official dispatch from Gen. BLUNT, regarding a movement which we noticed on Sunday, hardly justifies the statement regarding the advance of Gen. PRICE:

Maj.-Gen. Schofield, Commanding, &c.:

Advices from Col. PHILLIPS, to the 22d, inform me that on the 20th the rebels crossed the Arkansas in force, near Fort Gibson, when an engagement ensued, in which our forces were successful—defeating the rebels and driving them back across the river. Col. PHILLIPS' loss was thirty killed—the enemy's much greater. They are now recrossing the river.

COMMUNICATIONS RESUMED.

A communication was received from the Croton Aqueduct Department in relation to the defective manner of the construction of sewers.

CROTON AQUEDUCT DEPARTMENT, }
June 1, 1863. }

To the Honorable the Common Council:

The Croton Aqueduct Board have on frequent occasions in their annual reports and by special communications endeavored to show to your Honorable Body, in contrast with the present irregular and objectionable manner in which the public sewers are now and have been since their first introduction ordered and built, the salutary and permanent benefits that would unquestionably be experienced from the adoption of systematic plans for the sewerage of the undrained districts of our City, and by the construction of main and branch sewers of properly graduated dimensions in harmony therewith. Deeply impressed with a knowledge of the sanitary and also of the pecuniary importance of this undertaking and daily witnessing the evils and otherwise avoidable expense arising from its neglect, they believe it to be a matter of simple duty to again bring the subject to your notice, and to respectfully, but urgently ask for a favorable consideration thereof at your earliest convenience.

By the Legislative act of 1849, (under which this department was organized,) this Board was charged with the construction of sewers, subject, however, "to the orders of the Common Council, as to the times and places of building new sewers, and to the general plan which has been, or may be adopted for the sewerage and drainage of said city."

The framers of this law, undoubtedly foresaw, that any plan which might be adopted for the general introduction of water into our City, would of necessity be imperfect unless careful provision was at the same time made for its removal, and the necessary authority was in accordance with this wise forethought granted to your Honorable Body, to initiate and perfect a general plan of sewerage for the whole City.

The absolute necessity of such plan has been frequently urged upon your Honorable Body, but as yet no authority has been given to this Board to take any step in the matter. So much has been said heretofore on this subject that the Board would here simply add that the time has come for some definite action on the part of the Common Council if they would save the city from incalculable expense, and the operation of our sewers from confusion and inefficiency.

The topographical features of the lower part of the city have, fortunately, served in some degree to obviate the bad results which otherwise would inevitably have followed our want of system in this regard.

The upper part of the City has not the same topographical advantages to offset imperfect arrangements, and no time should be lost in guarding against future difficulties and useless expenditure, by the adoption of a system of sewers based upon correct principles. In this respect the City of New-York, instead of being the one to lead in physical science and judicious expenditure in this branch of public work, is far behind, not only the cities of Europe, but some of the comparatively smaller towns of our own country.

It is earnestly hoped that your Honorable Body will at an early day, give to this Board such authority as will be necessary to enable it to undertake and complete such surveys as will be requisite for the purpose alluded to. To facilitate your action in this respect, we respectfully submit a draft of a resolution for your favorable consideration.

A. W. CRAVEN,
For the Croton Aqueduct Board.

Resolved, That the Croton Aqueduct Board be and they are hereby authorized to undertake and complete, at the earliest possible day, such surveys and plans as in their opinion may be necessary for the establishment of a proper system of sewerage for the present undrained districts of this City, such plans when completed to be submitted to the Common Council for their approval.

The President moved that the paper be read and published in the Corporation papers, printed in the minutes, and referred to the Committee on Sewers.

Which was carried.

A communication was received from the Comptroller, with statement of money balances to May thirty, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three.

Which was ordered on file.

VETO MESSAGE FROM HIS HONOR THE MAYOR.

A message was received from His Honor the Mayor, vetoing a report of Committee on Finance in favor of leasing a plot of ground to the German Hospital.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, NEW-YORK, May 29, 1863.

To the Honorable the Board of Aldermen:

GENTLEMEN: I must return without my approval the resolution directing the Comptroller to convey in fee simple to the President and Directors of the German Hospital, a certain plot of land on the southeasterly corner of Seventy-seventh-street and Fourth-avenue, "to be used exclusively as a site for the necessary buildings for a hospital, the property to be sold for the sum of one dollar, lawful currency of the United States, and to revert back to the City in case the said property, or the buildings to be erected thereon, should be used for any other than the uses and purposes of a German Hospital."

While I agree with you as to the expediency and public advantage of furnishing the grounds for the erection of this hospital, I am obliged by the forty-first section of the City Charter to withhold my signature from your resolution. That section provides that "all leases and sales of public property and franchises shall be made by public auction, and to the highest bidder who will give adequate security."

This clearly prohibits such a conveyance as is directed by your resolution to be made. Should the Legislature specially authorize such a conveyance, or if there be any other mode by which the City may legally furnish the land for this hospital, I should deem it proper and advantageous to the City to make the conveyance.

GEORGE OPDYKE, Mayor.

Which was received, laid on the table, ordered to be printed in the minutes, and published in the newspapers employed by the Corporation.

For some days past, with quite moderate supplies, there has been more buoyancy, and a portion of the decline regained. The supply of strictly sound extra State flour is light, and that description is held with firmness, whilst the inferior kinds of State and Western are dull. Shipping brands of Ohio have met a ready sale and are not plenty. There is a good stock of the choice qualities of Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, but the demand is limited and prices irregular. The quotations for Wheat show a larger range than usual. Eugene O'Sullivan & Co. report the stock on hand as 10,950 bags cleaned East India, against 707 casks Carolina, 200 do. Para, 28,888 bags cleaned East India, and 67,517 bags and mats uncleaned do., same date last year.

SUGARS—Sales, to-day, 860 hhds., including New-Orleans, at 11¼c.@13c., the latter rate for Clarified, and Cuba at 10¼c.@11c. ℔ lb.

TALLOW—Sales, to-day, 95,000 lbs., at 11c.@11¼c. ℔ lb. The week's business Messrs. Knight & Sons notice thus: "In this article there has been considerable variation since our last issue. During the first part of the week there existed a pretty fair demand for desirable shipping lots at 11¼c.@11½c., but this did not last but for two days when the market became very suddenly depressed, and prices consequently receded from ¼c.@⅜c., and sales were effected at 11c.@11⅛c., the latter price being the extreme rate for the very choicest in the market. During Friday and Saturday the depression was still felt, and in order to dispose of lots the concession was allowed. Yesterday the market was very unsettled, and 11⅛c. appeared to be the very extreme shippers would pay for choice lots on the spot. To-day, owing to the rise in gold, prices have stiffened, and favorite brands are not to be obtained for less than 11¼c., and the market closes firm at 11⅛c.@11¼c. The stock now on hand is very small here, and throughout the country generally there appeared to be a scarcity. The arrivals from all points is likewise small. In other soap stock there has been more doing. Good White Grease and No. 2 Tallow has been more inquired after, but Tallow Oil seems to be nominal. Prices this day, 1858, 9¼c.; 1859, 10⅞c.; 1860, 10c.; 1861, 8¼c.; 1862, 9¾c., ℔ lb."

WHISKY—Sales 500 bbls., in lots, at 44½c.@45c. ℔ gallon.

FREIGHTS—Were rather more active to-day. For Liverpool, the engagements included 1,100 bbls. Flour, at 1s. 9d. ℔ bbl.; 156,000 bushels Grain, at 6½d.@8d. by sailing vessel, and 8½d.@9d. by steamer, ℔ bushel; 300 bbls Pork, at 3s. ℔ bbl. For London: 5,000 bbls. Flour, at 2s. 3d.@2s. 10½d. ℔ bbl.; and 50 hhds. Tallow at 32s. 6d. ℔ ton. For Bristol: 13,000 bushels Wheat, at 9d. ℔ bushel. For Glasgow: 1,000 pkgs. Provisions, at 37s. 6d. ℔ ton. NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Official advices from Gen. Grant's Army to the 29th ult. were yesterday received by the Government. They indicate that there was no change in the condition of affairs at Vicksburgh, but that the prospects were encouraging. A dispatch from Memphis brings us unofficial advices to the 28th, which state that on the 26th the gunboat Cincinnati was sunk by the fire from the rebel batteries, with a reported loss of over twenty killed and wounded. Several of our men captured by the rebels had been paroled—it is said on account of a scarcity of food. A more detailed report of the statements of a Staff officer, mentioned yesterday, has been received. From this it appears that Gen. Grant is engaged in building works, with the view of capturing the place by regular approaches, and that some of the rebel works are being mined. A portion of Gen. Banks' forces are said to have reinforced Gen. Grant. The rebels report that Gen. Banks has landed his forces at Bayou Sara, ten miles above Port Hudson, with the intention of attacking that place in the rear.

Advices from the Department of the Gulf, received yesterday, by the steamship Creole, are important. She left New Orleans on the 24th ult., having been detained two days by the Government, to carry troops to the vicinity of Port Hudson. This famous stronghold, like that of Vicksburgh, is in a state of siege. A preliminary reconnoissance was made from Baton Rouge on the 12th, Col. Grierson, with his famous cavalry coöperating. It was further continued on the 13th, and the rebel pickets at Port Hudson were driven in. Col. Grierson proceeded to the railroads and telegraphs communicating with the place, and succeeded in destroying all communication. On the 19th the reconnoissance was pushed to within a mile and a half of the rebel works, without bringing on an engagement. On the 21st, however, a heavy force having been brought up from Baton Rouge, on the Bayou Sara road, the advance in earnest against Port Hudson commenced, and the enemy under Gen. Gardner was encountered on the Port Hudson Plains, two open tracts of smooth country four miles east of the fortifications. The rebels were in ambush, but were soon uncovered, and, after a warm engagement, were defeated and driven back within their works, leaving a large number of killed and wounded on the field. Port Hudson by this time is fully invested by our forces, if it has not already fallen into our hands. Details of affairs on the Red River, and elsewhere in the Department, will be found in our correspondents' letters.

It has been learned in Washington that a large body of rebels, supposed to be from Lee's army, passed through Culpepper on Monday, and proceeded in the direction of Gordonsville.

By way of Fortress Monroe, we receive several important items of rebel news. The Charleston Courier of the 26th ult. announces that the blockade-running steamer Eagle left Nassau for a Confederate port on the Wednesday previous, but on the succeeding night was fired into and captured by a National cruiser. It is said the commander of the Eagle mistook the cruiser for the British steamer Flora. Three gunboats recently visited Murfreesboro, N. C., and secured 20,000 pounds of bacon. On the 27th a fire occurred at Wilmington, N. C., which destroyed a large warehouse filled with spirits of turpentine and cotton—the latter mostly belonging to the rebel Government. Loss heavy.

We learn from Alabama of the defeat of the rebel Gen. Roddy at Florence, on the 27th ult., by a National force under Col. Cornyn. We captured 8 officers, 100 men, 300 negroes, and 400 mules. Col. Cornyn then marched northward, and destroyed in his way foundries, mills, and other property likely to be useful to the enemy.

Gen. Burnside has prohibited the circulation of the New-York World and the Chicago Times in his Department.

GENERAL NEWS.

The commander of the French steam-transport Finisterre, which arrived at this port yesterday from Vera Cruz, doubts the truth of the report by way of Havana that Puebla has been captured by Gen. Forey. The Finisterre left Vera Cruz on the 19th, and the latest news from Puebla at the time was to the 16th, at which time the French only held a part of the city, as previously reported. Nothing appears to have been heard of the alleged defeat of Comonfort.

Pursuant to a call published for some days beforehand in both English and German papers, the Germans of this City assembled in large number, yesterday evening, at Cooper Institute, to protest against the charge of cowardice and ill behavior on the battle field, brought against the German troops in the Eleventh corps of the Army of the Potomac recently participating in the terrible engagement near Chancellorsville, Va. Hugo Wesendonck, Esq., presided, and lists of no less than 154 Vice-Presidents and 27 Secretaries were called, comprising very many prominent and influential German residents. Very emphatic resolutions, condemning the aspersions cast upon the Eleventh corps, and vindicating its honor, rebuking the spirit of Nativism thus revived, and hinting at the removal of the Commander-in-Chief of the Union forces, were passed with great enthusiasm, and Messrs Wesendonck, Kapp, Weil Von Gernsbach, and Gen. Von Gilsa, made stirring addresses, which were received with immense applause.

The annual communication of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, of the State of New-York, commenced yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the City Assembly Rooms. This body is composed of the Grand Master, Grand Officers and the Masters and Wardens of each subordinate Lodge throughout the State. These representatives assemble in convention and pass edicts and laws for the government of the craft during the year. The business, yesterday, was of a preliminary character, relating to the organization.

At the Billiard Tournament, last evening, Fox beat Estephe 116 points, and Kavanagh beat Seereiter 160 points. The tournament will be continued this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and this evening at 8.

The Board of Supervisors met yesterday. A message from the Mayor vetoed a bill of Charles W. Baker's, amounting to $900 for printing, binding and stationery, and of which $581 was for printing and binding the Supreme Court Calendars for January and February, and those of the General Term for February—150 copies of each month's calendar. Finding that the name of the Chairman of the Printing Committee was not attached to the report in favor of paying the bill, the Mayor consulted him in regard to it, and learned from him that Justice Ingraham had appeared before the Committee and expressed the opinion that several items of the bill were not legal charges. The Mayor says the calendars were not printed in sufficient quantities for distribution to the lawyers, and the Judges and clerks could not have used so many copies as are charged for. A report from the Committee on Annual Taxes in favor of paying the Comptroller a salary of $2,500, and his deputy a salary of $1,500, on county account, was laid on the table. In the course of passing upon various bills an item of sixty dollars for badges for officers of the Superior Court came up. Mr. Purdy said the claim was illegal. He was surprised that no requisitiom had been made for the badges. Mr. Ely said Mr. Purdy knew all about the badges, before they were procured and afterward. At this the "old war horse of Democracy" waxed exceedingly wrathy and replied that the assertion was "false and unfounded in fact." The bill was allowed. The Board adjourned to 3 o'clock P. M. next Tuesday.

The price of Gold left off yesterday 147½; Exchange, 161 @ 161½; Money 6 @ 7 ℔ cent. to the Stock Brokers. The Stock market lower on the railways and dull at the close.

Breadstuffs opened briskly and buoyantly, but closed rather heavily, yesterday. Provisions were in fair request, as were likewise Sugars, Molasses, Tallow, Whisky, Hay, Lumber, Fish, Coal and Rio Coffee. Cotton was quoted higher, but was less freely dealt in. Hemp, Rice, Seeds, Spices, Candles, Metals and Naval Stores, were generally very sparingly purchased. Wool, Hops and Tobacco, were in moderate request. Desirable styles of Boots and Shoes were sold by auction rather advantageously. Freights were more active.

The Live Stock market show large gains over last week in each department, the total receipts being 26,797 against 18,719 one week ago. Trade was somewhat depressed in consequence, but less than might be anticipated, and very little stock remains unsold....Beeves foot up 5,403, which is the largest number since early in February. They came in and were sold nearly every day since the close of the last market. Prices kept up pretty well during the week, and the first sales, on Monday morning, were as good as those of that day week; but by noon, when it was known that 4,100 head were at the Forty-fourth-street yards alone, there was a lull in the sales and prices dropped off ½c., and so continued until the close. No cattle were left over, and after all were sold there were inquiries for more. Prices ranged from 10c. to 12c. ℔ lb. net weight, the average being but little short of 11c., as many were sold before the decline, and the quality was such as to keep up the average price. Sheep are plenty and cheaper. Receipts over 8,000 for the week. They are mostly shorn and are worth 6c. @6½c. ℔ lb. live weight—if extra fat, 7c. Trade is pretty good, and very few hold over. Live Hogs sum up 11,882 for the week, which is an increase at a time when fewer are wanted. They are selling slowly at 5¼c.@5⅝c. for corn fed, and 4¾c.@5c. for still hogs, or ¼c. lower than last week.

An Early and Large Conscription.

We trust that the Administration will spare no pains to complete the preparations for the conscription by the earliest day possible, and that the conscription when made will be on an extensive scale. The great mistake of the war thus far has been the endeavor to wage it with an insufficient force. It requires no professional eye to see that, during the first year, the rebel army positively outnumbered our own; and through the second year we have had at no time a material preponderance;—for the calls that were made by the President last Summer were nearly balanced by the universal conscription ordered soon after by the rebel Congress. The expiration of the service of the nine months' men and of the two years' men is fast reducing our numbers to a figure actually below that of the rebel forces. Until this relative strength of the armies is vastly changed, so that we shall have a very great numerical preponderance of soldiers, this war will continue to drag on without result.

The rationale of the rebel system has become so plain that no man of the slightest discernment can mistake it. It all lies in the principle of concentration. Acting on the defensive, the rebels have also the advantage of operating on interior lines. While we are on the rim of the circle, they move at pleasure over the comparatively short distances within; and, when threatened at any point, they without delay combine their forces, and meet us in at least equal, if not superior, numbers. They do not hesitate to uncover the most important points in order to do this. In fact they have no alternative. When we advance in any direction, they must then and there have a force large enough to cope with us, or we would at once rush to our prize. Of course, they have done their best to disguise this necessity. It is now a settled fact that, in many instances, they have concealed the transfer of their troops by keeping up an imposing line of pickets long after every man behind them had been sped scores of miles away. It is not to the credit of our Generals that they have ever been deceived by such beggarly devices. It ought at the very outset to have been made an axiom that, from the very necessity of the case, the rebels, with their limited numbers, when threatened by an advance upon any point, must concentrate, and that this concentration must occasion a great weakness at all other points.

Plainly there can be but one method of meeting this system of the rebels, and that is an advance upon them with strong force, in different directions, at the same time. This drives the rebel commander at once into a fatal dilemma. He cannot concentrate at any one point without sure ruin at another; and yet, if he does not concentrate, he is just as sure to incur ruin by fighting us in detail with largely inferior forces. Had this indisputable truth been recognized and acted upon, Richmond would have inevitably fallen at Hooker's last advance. In fact it might have been grasped by us at any time since the war began.

But the prime requisite for this method is a large preponderance in numbers. If the advance were to be made, for instance, in two directions, the army operating in each should be strong enough to give full employment to the combined rebel force. Thus, the check of the advance in the one direction could be obtained only at the cost of the success of the advance in the other direction. With proper activity and concert of movement on our part, there could be no failure.

We trust we have seen the last attempt to penetrate interior lines in a single direction. In theory it is absurd, and in practice it is suicidal. Richmond must be taken as Paris was taken—by joint advance movements with heavy columns in different directions. Napoleon, the greatest warrior of modern times, was helpless before that simple operation, and it is certain that Lee could not withstand it.

It would seem that the Government must have been so taught by hard experience, that it will no longer trust to half-measures. For two years it has maintained the contest, practically, as the man with one hand tied behind him fights the boy. This may be legitimate sport for amateurs, but it does not suit a nation struggling for its life. It is high time that the mighty superiority of the loyal part of the country in strength should be turned to some practical account. The Executive, by the act of Congress, is clothed with a power to put into the field any number of men necessary—one, two, nay three millions, if need be. No physical effect can be more surely calculated upon from a physical cause, than the speedy crushing of this rebellion from the force that this Conscription bill empowers the Government to wield. We trust that the Administration will flinch from no responsibility in the promptest and most effectual use of this means. The great body of the people, we are sure, will cheerfully sustain any extent of conscription necessary for the speedy completion of the war. It is only when the Government hesitates and falters that the people fail it—never, when it is bold.

Arguing with Rebellion.

There is a story told of a certain athletic wag that he laid a wager with a friend that he could throw him across a tolerably wide river. The friend submitted himself to the experiment, and, finding himself soused into the water about four feet from the bank, swam ashore and claimed the stakes. "No," replied the other, "I am going to try again; I know I shall succeed in the end." The anecdote, if not true, is well found, and it illustrates admirably the real nature of the programme propounded by the party who think we can settle all our differences with the South by talking the matter over with them in convention. They ask us to suspend the operations of our fleets and armies, give the Southern people time to elect delegates and elect them ourselves, and then proceed to drafting resolutions, compromises and guarantees, and making speeches, and taking votes.

We will say nothing whatever of the difficulty of getting the convention together. We will suppose it in session, and in full consideration of such trifles as what is to be done about the Southern war debt? What about the escaped and emancipated slaves? What about the confiscated property; and, though last, not least, what about future "guarantees" for Southern institutions? Suppose the Convention has sat for three months—certainly by no means too long for the settlement of even such bagatelles as the foregoing—and suppose, which is very likely, that after much speechifying and voting and resolving, not one passion is soothed, not one prejudice eradicated, not one point of difference removed—what then? It was, as we know, possible to discuss the extension of Slavery alone for forty years without even arriving at any conclusion about it that satisfied either North or South, or, in fact, that did anything, save exasperate and estrange them. The sources of strife have, since the antagonists last met in council, certainly not been diminished, but increased. Each party has had every one of its convictions strengthened and cemented by blood. So that it is not only possible, but highly probable, that three months, or even six months, might be passed in debate, and leave every question in dispute still as far from solution as ever.

Should this occur, are we to try again for another six months? Are we to have a permanent "mixed Commission," instructed to sit and debate until they can hit upon terms that will suit both parties, let it take ever so long? Is there, in short, to be any limit to the length of the experiment, and if so, what? In what space of time shall we know for certain that the Union is finally broken up, or that the Union is finally restored? How long may the country be kept in suspense as to whether it is to have war or peace? By what sign are we to learn that all hope of accommodation is at an end. One failure of the delegates to agree upon a compromise would clearly not decide it, because this occurred after full discussion before the war broke out—a discussion which began, as we have already said, when this generation was in its cradle, and only closed with the fall of Fort Sumter. How many failures, therefore, would close it?

The answers to these queries have to us the highest possible importance; to the South, not the smallest. The rebels would be perfectly satisfied to discuss with us till the crack of doom, if we left them—as we should have to leave them in the meantime—in the practical enjoyment of their independence. Their Government would exercise its functions undisturbed; it would organize and consolidate its power; its agents would continue to knock for recognition at the doors of foreign Powers; and our failure to prosecute hostilities for even a short period, during the fighting season, of our own accord, would be unquestionably taken by foreign Powers to amount to that virtual abandonment of the enterprise which all European jurists, "Historicus" included, consider full warrant for a formal recognition of the Confederacy. So that it will be easily seen, putting aside the difficulty of keeping enormous armaments afoot and afloat, without any definite notion of when we should again need them, that the time this peace palaver will occupy is of the essence of the proposition. We must see how long we are to be experimented on. The nation cannot submit to be flung into the river as often as Committees or Conventions may think necessary to enable them to land it on the opposite bank. It must know beforehand the maximum of ducking it may have to undergo before the task is either accomplished or given up in despair.

The Apostles of Slavery.

We hope that the London Times, which has been much given to the republication of Confederate boasts of their policy and prowess in war, will find room for the article from the Richmond Examiner which we gave in these columns yesterday. The rebel organ, after felicitating itself and its friends on the martial glory won by the Confederacy, which, it declares, has compelled a reluctant world to respect and finally to "love" it, proceeds to expound the political and social principles upon which the Confederacy is based. These principles, it holds, will be regarded as established, to the acquiescence of mankind and with the approval of Heaven, in the establishment of the independence of the Southern Confederacy.

If the London Times heartily desires the rebels to win in the great fight they are waging, it ought to have no objection to let the world know what problems in society and government are to be considered settled by a rebel triumph; for the relations of the Confederacy to the rest of mankind in that contingency will require adjustment on a different moral basis from any now recognized in the ethics of civilized nations. The Richmond Examiner evidently means to prepare the world for the new gospel of slaveholding which the Confederacy is to preach and practice to the conversion of nations, in the article in question, one paragraph of which we reprint as a specimen of the whole:

> "The establishment of the Confederacy is verily a distinct reaction against the whole course of the mistaken civilization of the age. For 'Liberty Equality, Fraternity,' we have deliberately substituted Slavery, Subordination and Government. Those social and political problems which rack and torture modern society we have undertaken to solve for ourselves, in our own way, and upon our own principles. That 'among equals equality is right;' among those who are naturally unequal, equality is chaos; that there are slave races born to serve, master races born to govern. Such are the fundamental principles which we inherit from the ancient world, which we lifted up in the face of a perverse generation that has forgotten the wisdom of its fathers; by those principles we live and in their defence we have shown ourselves ready to die. Reverently we feel that our Confederacy is a God-sent missionary to the nations, with great truths to preach. We must speak them boldly; and whoso hath ears to hear let him hear."

This is a bold and candid avowal, it must be admitted. The deliberate judgment of all civilized nations, arrived at after centuries of experience, of study, of free and full discussion, and with the aid of philosophy, political economy and Christianity to light the way to truth, is thus rashly, we might almost say impiously, set aside by the Confederates. And who are they, and what their qualifications, that they venture thus to brand as false the convictions and practices of the nations that have redeemed the world from ignorance and barbarism? Who are the rebel statesmen, philosophers, heroes, prophets, priests and poets, whose precepts and achievements entitle them to the homage of the intellect of all civilized nations, and to the right to guide the conscience of Christendom? These questions have only to be asked to provoke a scornful and contemptuous silence by way of reply. Slavery has given nothing to the parvenu class of oligarchs that rule the South but a high and false conceit, a domineering spirit, brutalized affections, a savage satisfaction in scenes of conflict and conquest, and a talent for extravagant and turgid stump oratory and high-flown balderdash, of which the extract above is a specimen. With these weapons the evangels of the Confederacy have set out to establish a "reaction against the whole course of the mistaken (!) civilization of the age," and to prove themselves "God-sent missionaries" to preach Slavery to the conversion and salvation of a "racked and tortured modern society." Let the London Times be candid for once, and let the Christian people of Europe know the new faith that has conquered its allegiance.

Removal of Gen. Hunter.—It is announced from Washington that Gen. Hunter has been relieved from the command of the Department of the South, and that he is succeeded by Gen. Gilmore. We have as yet no statement of the reasons for this change. Whether Gen. Hunter is relieved at his own request, or in consequence of some failure in duty, we are not aware. His letter to Jeff. Davis, which we published yesterday morning, was in some respects a singular production, and may have had something to do with his displacement. It is dated April 23. The first part of it threatens to execute the "rebel of highest rank" in his possession for every negro in the employ of the Government who may be executed or sold into slavery by the rebels. This may be justified, perhaps, on the ground of necessary retaliation. But Gen. Hunter also informs Mr. Davis that, unless he immediately revokes an order which he issued in August last, directing the execution of all negroes who may be taken prisoners, he will "at once cause the execution of every rebel officer and every rebel slaveholder" in his possession. This certainly is a strange threat for a Commanding General to make. We do not know that Gen. Hunter has ever attempted to put it in execution, but it is quite possible that it may have had something to do with his removal. The Government could not permit an officer to announce or initiate any such policy as this, nor is it at all likely that they would permit it to pass without notice.

An Ounce of Prevention.—We observe that Ex-Mayor Wood is announced to speak first in the main hall where the Peace Convention is to be held, and then at each of the five stands which are to be erected outside. The Ex-Mayor certainly does not mean to be lost sight of at this Convention. The managers of the Democratic party at Albany have for some months past been unable to see him: he has not been conspicuous at their Conventions, committee meetings or other congregations. With all his modesty, Fernando does not quite like to be entirely overlooked, and he has taken all proper precautions against such a calamity in the present instance.

After Vicksburgh.—Some folks imagine that the rebels, if defeated at Vicksburgh, may seize some other position at some unthought-of point on the Mississippi, and that we will have as much labor and bloodshed at the new point as we have had to get Columbus, Memphis and Vicksburgh. Even if Pemberton's army were captured, it may be thought that the forces under Johnston would manage to reach the river with artillery, and quickly erect another stronghold.

In the first place, this could not be done anywhere above Vicksburgh, in the region between that city and Memphis; for the whole of that section lies low, and does not afford any point on which to plant fortifications; and our gunboats now navigate the Yazoo in its rear, as well as the Mississippi in front, and would, of course, easily prevent the erection of batteries or the movement of troops.

Between Vicksburgh and Port Hudson there are a few, and but a very few, points that afford natural facilities for fortification—such as Warrenton, Grand Gulf, Natchez, Ellis' Cliffs and Port Adams. But the first two positions we command already, and each of the others is very closely watched by the gunboats of our river fleet, with the very object of preventing the rebels fortifying them. None of these points connect with the Southern system of railroads; and, indeed, Columbus, Memphis, Vicksburgh and New-Orleans are the only places below Cairo that do. And though, if they were fortified, it might be possible to retain a small force at them, like that now at Port Hudson, it would be impossible to maintain there a large army.

From the circumstances of the case, and the topography of the country, we think there is no doubt that Vicksburgh will be the last point held by the rebels, with any great force, on the Mississippi River.

Puebla.—By the Creole at this port, we have three days' later advices from Havana; but no corroboration of the Mexican advices, published yesterday, do we find in the Havana papers; nor do we ascertain that private letters make any mention of the reported capture of Puebla, except doubtingly.

We have also at this port the French steam transport Le Finnisterre, from Vera Cruz 19th inst. The commander of this transport doubts the news as published in yesterday's papers of the capture of Puebla, received per Sheldrake. He makes no mention of the defeat of Comonfort, on the 8th inst., by Bazaine, and, in fact, he had heard nothing of the news taken to Havana by the French war-steamer Darien, which sailed from Vera Cruz only one day after the Finisterre. We must await a still later arrival before the truth can be known.

Lemons.—The prompt response to the appeal recently made for contributions of lemons with which to form acidulated beverages for the invalid soldiers in the Virginia and Washington hospitals, is another proof of the anxiety of people generally to do what they can in the way of patriotic and humane work for the benefit of our army. Over a hundred boxes have within the last four days been forwarded to Washington, freely contributed and freely transmitted to the bedsides of the wounded. We hope this will not be a spasmodic movement. The Summer heats are just beginning, and there will be a steady and earnest demand for this fruit for months to come, even if our wounded in the hospitals should not be vastly increased by the battles likely to be fought in June, July and August. It would perhaps be well if there were a mixed Committee of ladies and gentlemen formed to attend permanently to this little matter during the Summer. It would be a pretty and a Christian labor.

Niblo's Garden.

A grand romantic drama, called the "Duke's Motto," was produced here on Monday night. It is an adaptation of a French piece, made with the consent and coöperation of the author, and now playing in London with the greatest success. We shall not attempt to describe the plot. The briefest summary of the incidents would alone fill a column, and even a list of the deaths and casualties would occupy more space than we propose to devote to the entire work. The hero of the piece, Capt. Lagardere, is an amiable swordsman, who, in the pursuit of virtue, finds it essential to assail the vitals of almost every one he meets. A single illustration of his character will be sufficient. At the close of the prologue he makes a vow to kill every living being then on the stage, and before the end of the play he keeps his word. Fortunately, a sturdy and attractive race of females has in the meantime grown up, so that the gaps made in the dramatic ranks from time to time are not so much remarked as otherwise they would be; and the new characters being in their prime by the third act, there is, notwithstanding the heavy mortality, a good muster at the end. The merit of the dramatist is discovered in the fact that the audience fully indorses the acts of the Captain, regarding him as the champion of innocence, and rejoicing when he turns up, as he always does, just in time for the slaughter. The character-contrasts, situations and incidents by which this is effected, are frequently of the most startling kind, and in every instance display rare ingenuity. As a consequence, the "Duke's Motto" is a highly elaborate and exciting drama of the sensation school; violating every rule of probability, but keeping the audience in a state of breathless anticipation from beginning to end. It must be added, too, that there is nothing unwholesome in the way this is done.

The general distribution of the parts at Mr. Wheatley's theatre is excellent, the manager sustaining the leading rôle with fine breadth of style and dash. It is surely the best character he has assumed in New-York. The Prince of Mr. Shewell was also a well marked impersonation, although a little dark and ponderous. There are two female characters, played respectively by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. George Jordan, the first with grace and taste, the second with spirit. Mrs. Jordan is making such progress in her profession, that we have no hesitation in warning her against a vice of nasal pronunciation which seems to be growing on her, and certainly was very noticeable on this occasion. A third rôle was sustained with much force and ability by Mme. Ponisi, an actress who is always admirable. About a dozen and a half of smaller parts were distributed among the sufficient company of the establishment.

Mr. John Brougham, who is the author of this piece, has grafted a twig of Irish blackthorn on the French walnut of which it is composed. The character of Carrickfergus is a dramatic excess that might be avoided, but having been introduced by the author for his own particular behoof and profit—on the principle of take my play take me—no objection will be urged against it. A very small excuse is sufficient to justify the presence of that genial gentleman and cultivated man of letters. Mr. Collins, who comes by the part honestly in the way of trade, is altogether different as an artist. If Mr. Brougham were to write (on the plan of Carrickfergus) an Irish part for the tragedy of "Hamlet," opening with an apostrophe of the Emerald Isle and terminating with a wake over the body of Ophelia, he would contrive to somehow merge himself in the scene, and hence be no impediment to the red-handed business of the King, or the bloodthirsty gratification of the audience. Mr. Collins does not possess this faculty. Although a delineator of Irish characters, he would be conspicuous and "out of the water" in a Donneybrook Fair "scrimmage." Nothing can be more marked than the superfluity of his presence in the "Duke's Motto," unless it is the wearisomeness with which he drags in a couple of songs, for the purpose of displaying his moderate abilities as a singer. The songs are by Mr. Harvey B. Dodworth, and suit Mr. Collins' voice, (which, we may add, is a good one,) but they are none the less out of place in a melodrama requiring rapidity of action on the part of the actors, and uninterrupted attention on the part of the audience.

The last of these it obtained, but hardly the first. If Mr. Wheatley's establishment were not one of the best managed in the country, we might refer to the usual allowances for a first night, but these allowances he seldom needs. There were hurry, confusion and delays behind the scenes on Monday that could be detected from the auditorium—a state of things which nothing explains or justifies. Owing to these causes, the performance was of inordinate length. The effect, nevertheless, was all that could be desired. The attention of the audience was maintained with unflagging interest to the end, and all the most exciting situations were loudly applauded. In short, the "Duke's Motto" was a success that will necessitate its performance for many weeks. The scenery and costumes are alike good, and the pains which Mr. Wheatley has bestowed on the work merit the handsome reward which that gentleman is likely to obtain from its performance. Being the opening night of the Summer season, the illuminated garden and refreshment saloons of the establishment were thrown open to the public, adding to the festive gaiety of the occasion.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Washington, Tuesday, June 2.

GEN. HUNTER.

It is now stated that the announcements of Gen. Hunter's being relieved are incorrect, or at least premature. Gen. Saxton, who arrived here to-day and returns to-morrow with dispatches from the Government to Gen. Hunter, says it cannot be true, and adds that the difficulties between Hunter and Foster will be satisfactorily adjusted by the authorities here. Gen. Saxton gives the most encouraging accounts of the negro troops in South Carolina, and says more are being raised.

THE FRENCH IN MEXICO.

Prominent gentlemen here, well informed in Mexican affairs, say, if the reported fall of Peubla prove true, it must be attributed to the treachery of the Mexican commander. The object which French bayonets failed to achieve must have been accomplished at last by French gold. They say the city, with ten thousand men, could have been defended for six months against quadruple the number. The news, however, is not credited in official circles.

OFFICERS OF NEGRO REGIMENTS.

The Board to examine applicants for commands in negro regiments is now in session here. They have passed as competent, and recommended for appointment, Corp. Wilson W. Brown, of the Twenty-first Ohio, the engineer who piloted Gen. Mitchel's secret expedition into Georgia, and who, with most of his comrades, was captured and barbarously treated by the rebel authorities. He will probably be commissioned Colonel of a negro regiment.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of internal revenue for May are not quite five millions. A considerable increase is looked for next month.

REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that affidavits made before the officers of internal revenue, or certificates issued by such officers when required by law or by the regulations of this office, are not subject to stamp duty; also, that it is the duty of the Justice of the Peace or Notary before whom an affidavit is made, to affix and cancel a five cent stamp, to be placed thereon.

RELIEVED FROM PENALTY.

One hundred and twenty-seven soldiers of the Department of Washington, liable to or undergoing sentence of Court-Martial for desertion, but who voluntarily surrendered themselves previous to the President's proclamation of March 10, are, on the recommendation of Gen. Heintzelman, relieved from the penalty of desertion, except the forfeiture of their pay and allowances during their absence.

RETALIATION.

Gen. Rosecrans has placed the rebel officers now in his hands in close confinement, and forbidden the paroling of any. It is understood that this is intended to meet the rebel threats of retaliation for the hanging of spies.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

Commissioner Dole to-day received the following dispatch from Indian Agent Mann, dated at Fort Bridger, Utah Territory, June 1:

> "Five hundred Shoshonee or Snake Indians will visit this Agency to-day for the purpose of delivering up the stolen stock in their possession, and of pledging themselves to keep quiet in future. They are entirely destitute of food and clothing."

These Indians inhabit the country traversed by the Overland Emigrant route to the Pacific, and for years have been the terror of travelers going by that route. In the opinion of the Commissioner, the voluntary surrender of the stolen property, &c., is evidence of their penitence for past crimes, and the determination to live hereafter on amicable terms with the whites traveling through their country. The Agent has been ordered to relieve their necessities.

APPOINTMENT.

Capt. Robert N. Scott, Fourth regular infantry, formerly a member of Gen. Casey's Staff, is appointed Private Secretary to Gen. Halleck.

CORRECTION.

The paragraph in to-day's Times about a reconnoissance from Warrenton yesterday, was printed so as to make a directly opposite statement from that intended. It was written "the reconnoissance developes no rebel movement in this direction."

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Tuesday, June 2.

THE REPORTED PRESIDENTIAL SPIRITUAL MEETING.

The statements in a letter from Washington, originally published in the Boston Gazette, and subsequently copied into and seriously commented on in other papers, concerning an alleged spiritual meeting at the White House, would be too unimportant for denial were it not that they are seriously disturbing some very good men and women.

Several of the distinguished parties named have never certainly been present at such "circles" as those represented, and therefore have no personal knowledge of such spiritual manifestations.

CIVILIANS WITHIN THE ARMY LINES.

The number of citizens within the lines of the Army of the Potomac is almost incredible. Including those registered and following civil pursuits, such as newsmen, sutlers, ragmen, &c., and having permits to follow their respective callings, the total will probably reach nine thousand. This number will, however, be reduced to seven thousand by the operation of the recent General Order, which is daily being carried out by the indefatigable Provost-Marshal-General.

NEWS IN THE RICHMOND WHIG.

The Richmond Whig of Saturday, contains nothing whatever from Vicksburgh.

That paper editorially complains of the inefficiency of the rebel government. It argues, first, that the great error in the conduct of the war, was making it strictly defensive; and suggests that a dose of the enemy's own medicine, would cause him to desist from further invasion.

MOVEMENTS OF THE ENEMY.

A gentleman from the vicinity of Culpepper says that a large body of rebels, supposed to be from LEE'S army, passed there yesterday, and proceeded in the direction of Gordonsville.

No alarm exists in the Army of the Potomac concerning reported rebel movements.

DESERTION FROM THE ENEMY.

It is further ascertained that the desertions from the enemy on the Rappahannock average fifteen per day. These deserters, disgusted with rebel associations, arrive by different routes, but principally by swimming the river.

AN ACCIDENT TO A BALLOON.

An accident occurred yesterday morning to one of our balloons. It had ascended about 400 feet when it was struck by a flaw of wind, which caused a great rent. The aeronaut fell to the ground, but sustained no serious injury.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

It is known in this city that no leaves of absence are now granted to officers for longer terms than five days.

NAVAL.

Commander SOMERVILLE NICHOLSON has been ordered to the command of the iron clad steamer Sangamon, and Paymaster RICHARDSON has been ordered to the steam frigate Wabash.

DEPARTMENT OF THE OHIO.

Gen. Burnside Restricting the Circulation of the Copperhead Journals—The Case of Dr. Olds Against Gov. Tod.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, June 2.

General Orders No. 84, from Maj.-Gen. AMBROSE E. BURNSIDE, prohibits the circulation of the New-York World and Chicago Times in this Department.

Brig.-Gen. AMMEN, commanding in Illinois, is charged with the execution of this order.

Gov. TOD appeared before the Fairfield County Court of Common Pleas yesterday, in obedience to his recognizance to answer to the charges filed against him by Dr. EDSON B. OLDS.

The attorney for Gov. TOD filed a motion declaring that as he (TOD) was the Chief Executive of the State, he was not liable to arrest until he vacated his office, either by the expiration of his term, or by impeachment; he therefore could not be punished now. The case should be removed to the Federal Court, under the provisions of the act passed by the last Congress.

The Governor's case was then continued by consent, he entering into a new recognizance to appear at the next term of the Court.

The Chicago Times Suppressed.

CHICAGO, Tuesday, June 2.

The proprietors of the Times were notified to-night by Capt. PUTNAM, commanding Camp Douglas, that if they attempted to issue their paper for to-morrow morning, he would, in accordance with a telegraphic order from Gen. AMMEN, take military possession of the office.

Judge DRUMMOND, of the United States Court, was immediately applied to for a writ enjoining Capt. PUTNAM from any interference whatever with the Times office. Up to this hour (midnight) the Judge has not given a decision. It is thought probable, however, that he will grant the writ. A feeling of resistance to the military, should they attempt to carry out Gen. AMMEN'S order, is observable.

THE NATIONAL CANAL CONVENTION.

First Day's Proceedings.

CHICAGO, Tuesday, June 2.

The National Canal Convention was called to order at 11 o'clock this morning, by Dr. BRAINARD, Chairman of the Committee, who nominated CHAUNCEY J. FILLEY, Mayor of St. Louis, temporary Chairman.

The nomination was unanimously approved, and MOSES M. STRONG, of Wisconsin; A. H. CLAPP, of Buffalo, and W. H. MCILHENEY, of St. Louis, were chosen temporary Secretaries.

After prayer by Bishop SIMPSON, Dr. BRAINARD, in behalf of the Board of Trade, Mercantile Association, and citizens generally, delivered an address of welcome to the members of the Convention.

A resolution was adopted for the appointment of two from each State and one from each Territory represented, and also one for the District of Columbia, for the purpose of nominating a permanent President, one Vice-President, and one Secretary from each State, and to make rules for the government of the Convention.

A recess was taken for half an hour to enable the delegates to name the members of the Committee. At the expiration of that time the Convention was called to order.

Col. FOSTER offered a resolution, which was adopted, that Governors, Ex-Governors, Senators, Ex-Senators, Members and Ex-Members of the House of Representatives, Mayors of cities and Brigadier-Generals be invited to seats on the platform.

The Convention then adjourned until 3 o'clock, when the Committee on Permanent Organization will report.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Convention reassembled at 3 o'clock. The attendance was large, though the seats in the tent were not all occupied.

The Committee on Permanent Organization, through Gov. KING, reported Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN for President, and Hon. HIRAM WALBRIDGE, who had been unanimously proposed by the New-York delegation in the Committee for President, as Vice-President at large, and the following additional Vice-Presidents: From Maine, Jedediah Jewett; New-Hampshire, Hon. J. M. Edwards; Vermont, Lewis Follet; Massachusetts, Larenzo Sabin; Rhode Island, Hon. J. R. Arnold; Connecticut, Calvin Day; New-York, Hon. Erastus Corning; New-Jersey, Marcus L. Ward; Ohio, D. S. Scott; Indiana, Hon. Geo. W. Julian; Illinois, Gen. James W. Singleton; Michigan, A. E. Bissell; Wisconsin, Levi Blossom; Minnesota, Hon. J. M. Taylor; Iowa, Ebenezer Cook; Missouri, Geo. Partridge; Kansas, Marcus J. Parrott; District of Columbia, Dr. Peter Barker.

For Secretary at large, Col. J. W. Foster, and one Secretary for each State named.

The report was unanimously adopted.

The President, on taking the chair, thanked the Convention for the honor conferred, and spoke briefly in favor of the object for which the Convention was assembled, indorsing it not only as a military necessity, but also for the increased facilities it would give for the transportation of the commerce of the great and growing West.

The Committee also reported that the vote by States might be called for by any three delegates present; and in such case each State should have the same number of votes to which it was entitled in the Electoral College, each Territory and the District of Columbia being entitled to one vote.

The Committee also reported that a committee be appointed of one from each State, to be chosen by the respective delegations, to prepare and report such resolutions as they may recommend for the adoption of the Convention; that all propositions and resolutions presented by the Convention shall, before being acted on, be referred to said committee.

After the adoption of the report, the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to hearing speeches on national topics from prominent gentlemen present.

Gen. WALBRIDGE, of New-York, after repeated calls, made a few remarks, saying that the object of the meeting was for a practical purpose, not for speech-making, and offered a resolution in favor of the Constitution and the Union, which was received with tremendous applause.

Mr. DRAKE, of St. Louis, made a speech of an hour's length, in favor of a vigorous prosecution of war against Slavery, denouncing the latter as the cause of the rebellion, saying we must crush it, or it would crush us. The speaker was very severe on Copperheads. He was frequently interrupted with applause.

The Convention adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Railroad Accident.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, June 2.

A collision occurred this evening between the 2 o'clock train from New-York and the 6 o'clock freight and accommodation train for New-York, on the Camden and Amboy Railroad, at Fish House, three miles above Camden. Both locomotives, and several cars, were crushed, but fortunately only two persons were injured—THOMAS HARTMAN, of this City, and a newsboy, slightly. The 2 o'clock train was thirteen minutes behind time, but had the right track. The accident occurred through the inability of the engineer on the emigrant train to reverse his engine promptly.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, June 2.

Arrived, ship Asterion, from New-York.

The receipts of treasure since the departure of the last steamer are rising $2,000,000, about ten per cent. being coin.

Atlantic currency exchange is at the rate of 45 premium for gold in New-York. Sterling Exchange 48 pence. Greenbacks 64@65.

Naval.

ADMIRAL FOOTE.

This distinguished and gallant officer is now in the City, we learn, on his way to take command of the Atlantic blockading squadron. As Admiral FOOTE is one of those men who believe "in moving upon the enemy's works," the Charlestonians are likely to have a little more stirring up this Summer. The Government, we presume, has another scarcely less important command for Admiral DUPONT, who is relieved for the present.

Arrivals in the City.

Hon. Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State, arrived at the Astor House yesterday morning from his residence at Auburn. He leaves this morning by the 7 o'clock train for Washington City. He has been sojourning at Auburn for about ten days.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

Author of "Surgical and Practical Observations on the Diseases of the Ear, with his new Mode of Treatment."

NEW TESTIMONY.

"NEW-YORK, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.

THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"NEW-YORK, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. VON EISENBERG. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unsurpassing skill.

SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

No. 136 MADISON-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., ROOM No. 40, NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

HIGHLY IMPORTANT TO THE WORLD.

It has now been two years since I first introduced to the American public CHEAP MAPS in SHEET FORM. These Maps have been acknowledged by the Government and people to be the most accurate and perfect in workmanship ever offered; and being sold at the extremely low price of 25 and 50 cents, enabled all classes to purchase, and comprehend fully the geography of the American Continent. The high-priced maps of Colton, Mitchell and others, excluded this valuable information of the geography of our country almost entirely from the people. Newspapers have, by their cheapness, become almost as necessary to the world as food or raiment; but Maps, until Lloyd's discovery of electrotyping and printing from steel plates on a lightning press, were deemed a luxury too high for the masses, and few were purchased. Hence, when civil war in this country broke out, not one person in a thousand knew anything at all in reference to localities and boundaries in the Southern States. Even gentlemen of the Press, supposed to be conversant with the geography of their own country, when the war commenced were continually running into our office for information of towns, rivers, fords and places at which battles or skirmishes had occurred, and were thus suddenly brought into importance to every one. It was about this time that we invented our new process of electrotyping from steel, so as to print our maps on a lightning press, and sell them at almost the same price as a first-class newspaper. And millions upon millions of our Maps have been sold in sheets; almost every person in America and Europe have one or the other kind of Lloyd's Maps in their houses; all praised their beauty and accuracy, and there was but one regret of the people, viz.: that Lloyd's Maps were not mounted on rollers and varnished at less price than $3 and $5 per copy. They justly said: "If Lloyd can afford to sell a county colored map of the United States and Canadas at 50 cents in sheets, why cannot he sell the same Map mounted with rollers and varnished at less than $6?" Of course agents told them that muslin was 200 per cent. higher than ever, and, besides, it required a great deal of work and 48 hours' time to mount and dry a Map before ready for sale; but the explanation of the agent did not satisfy them—the public required a $10 mounted Map for $1—and as an agent could not purchase a mounted Map from me by the wholesale at less than $3 a copy, few of my mounted Maps have been sold; but I have not been idle these two years; I have experimented, and have now perfected machinery by which I am enabled to make and retail my Steel-Plate Map of the United States and Canadas, mounted with rollers, varnished and colored in Counties, at ONLY ONE DOLLAR PER COPY, or in sheets at 50 cents. This Map cost $20,000 to make it, and is better than any $20 Map ever made.

This splendid map shows every railroad and station, and the distance between each station; also, nearly 300,000 towns and 30,000 railroad stations are engraved on this map, all from surveys to 1863. In perfecting this map, the official Coast Survey Reports of Prof. Bache to the Navy Department of 1862 were used—the only map ever made which used this valuable authority. Colton's $10 map has not even Hatteras Inlet on it. Lloyd's map is colored in 2,000 counties, and acknowledged to be the only good map of this country ever made at any price. This County Map is five by four feet large, and any agent, male or female, can clear $10 a day selling this map at $1 a copy. Lloyd's map of the MISSISSIPPI RIVER, SOUTHERN STATES, KENTUCKY, VIRGINIA, TENNESSEE, and other maps, are also now sold at $1, mounted and varnished, same as the United States Map.

Printed instructions how to canvass well are furnished our agents.

Any person calling the attention of either male or female to this, who will act as our agent, will receive a full set of our maps gratis, and will also be entitled to a copy of every new map we have under way by writing us. Agents, who doubt the correctness of this circular, should send for only $1 worth to try. Address

EVIDENCES OF THE VALUE OF LLOYD'S MAP.

Lloyd's new map of the United States, mounted on rollers and varnished, is the best map of our country ever published for so low a price as $1. It ought to be hung up by every fireside to illustrate the daily progress and incidents of the war for the Union. HORACE GREELEY.

From the New-York Herald.

We have received Lloyd's Map of Virginia. This is the best and only official Map in existence, and is the only Map used in the planning of our campaigns in Virginia by our Commander-in-Chief.

From the New-York Tribune.

LLOYD'S MAP OF VIRGINIA.—This Map is from surveys, very large, and its price is but 25 cents. It is the best Map which can be purchased.

The public are cautioned against another "Lloyd," by whose name he hopes to deceive the public with spurious "Lloyd's Maps." This man's maps are engraved coarsely on wood and very erroneous. He follows us with an imitation of every Map we issue. A map of the Southern States, issued by him, has Farmington in the place of Corinth, Mississippi, and the latter place omitted from his map altogether.

LLOYD'S STEEL PLATE
TELEGRAPH, EXPRESS AND RAILROAD MAP
of the United States, Canadas and New-Brunswick.

Ready June 1, 1863, and sold only by subscription.

From official drawings and information. Warranted accurate, or money refunded. The new Map of the United States is 5x6 feet large, mounted with rollers. Shows every Railroad, Telegraph and Express line, and where there are Telegraph and Express Offices for receiving and forwarding dispatches and packages throughout the United States and Canadas. All from official information from

The Adams Express Co., American, United States, Harndens, Howard's, National, Kinsley's, Hope's, Cheney & Co.'s, British & American, Earl's, Leonard & Co., Fiske & Co., Eastern Express, Niles & Co., Turner, Hill & Co., Canney & Co., and other Express Companies in the United States and Canadas.

The Telegraph Lines are shown just as they run throughout the country, drawings of which were furnished us by the American, Western, British American and six other telegraph Companies in the United States and Canadas, and may be relied upon as accurate. The Railroads, Telegraph and Express Lines in the Southern States, and those extended since the rebellion, are just as correct as those of the Northern States, furnished us by reliable persons, and we will guarantee that every railroad completed in the Southern States, to the 1st of February, is marked correctly on this Map.

The Telegraph Lines are colored Red, Blue, Orange and other colors, to represent the seven different distinct Telegraph Companies whose Lines are in operation throughout the country. At each station or city at which there is an Operator the wire diverges in and touches the station, town or city. The Railways on this Map are heavy and distinct, each station is very plain and large, and the figures between each station representing the distances from place to place.

THIS MAP IS ACKNOWLEDGED THE FINEST PIECE OF STEEL ENGRAVING EVER DONE IN THIS COUNTRY.

Accompanying each Main Map is an independent Map of the

on a scale ten times as large as the main Map. Size, four feet in dimensions, showing every Railroad, Town and Village very plainly, on a scale of four miles to an inch, and warranted the most accurate of any Map of the Eastern States ever made. The two Maps go together, and show no less than

60,000 RAILROAD STATIONS AND PLACES IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADAS, DISTINCTLY, on a magnificent scale, easily comprehended by the merchant in shipping goods to any point, or in telegraphing. No work ever before engraved like this.

IT IS A MERCHANTS' SHIPPING, EXPRESS AND TELEGRAPHIC GUIDE.

It is mounted on rollers and varnished, for the Counting-House, Hotel or Private Office. Accompanying the maps is a book of 200 pages, in which will be found every RAILROAD and TELEGRAPH STATION, TOWN and CITY, ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED, stating in what State and County and on what Railroad each place is located; the distance East or West from some well-known point; what Express Company have an office open there, if any; whether a Telegraph Operator is at said place; the cost of sending 10 words by Telegraph to any place in the country, and the price of a Through Ticket by Railroad to each place—all from OFFICIAL INFORMATION, AND WARRANTED CORRECT.

AN ILLUSTRATION.—Supposing a merchant receives a letter from Westfield, Indiana, ordering goods, he does not know whether that is an inland town or on a railroad line; nor does he know whether there is an express or telegraph office open there; nor on what railroad line Westfield is located. He looks at LLOYD'S TELEGRAPH, RAILROAD, and EXPRESS MAP; and, after searching a dozen railroad lines in Indiana, without finding Westfield, he turns to W in my Telegraph Express, and Railroad Book, and finds it thus: "Westfield, Indiana (Tippecanoe Co.)—on the Louisville and Chicago Railroad—30 miles north of Terre Haute—American Express and Western Telegraph here, &c., &c."

Price of the whole, complete, $5 (Five Dollars). Sold only by subscription. Those wishing a copy must order at once, as no more than subscribed for will be printed. They will be sent by express to each subscriber, prepaid.

This Map and Book are so highly thought of by the Express, Railroad and Telegraph Companies of the United States and Canadas, that they have ordered more than THIRTY THOUSAND COPIES of it for use in their various offices. This Map and Book was commenced EIGHTEEN MONTHS AGO, and are now almost finished, costing the publisher FORTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS and a world of trouble to perfect them; which, he is happy in saying, he has accomplished. It is a work of the greatest value to the commercial world, and would be bought by every merchant at $100 per copy, were it asked, rather than do without it. The same information cannot be had elsewhere at any price. Said a wholesale merchant to me yesterday: "Lloyd, I have paid $600 losses this year on packages which my clerks sent to wrong places and by wrong Express lines, simply because they had no authority to guide them, which would not have been the case had your Maps and Books been in my counting-room. Send me FIVE COPIES as soon as ready. Here are twenty-five dollars."

Registered letters only are at my risk.

Those wishing the main Map alone, five feet large, can be supplied at $1 50, mounted and varnished, or in sheets, 50 cents. Those wishing the Eastern States Map alone can be accommodated at 75 cents, mounted and varnished, or at 25 cents in sheets, colored. Price of the Book alone, $3; but the price of both Maps and the Book is $5.

FINANCIAL.

LAKE ERIE AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY.

FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND BONDS.

The Lake Erie and Pacific Railroad Company, in the State of Indiana, now offer for sale their entire issue of $890,000 First, and only, Mortgage Bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable semi-annually in the City of New-York.

These bonds are secured by a DEED OF TRUST, constituting the FIRST and ONLY lien upon the entire Road, its franchises, appurtenances, rolling stock, &c.

Its route is along the White Water Valley, from Rushville to Union, a distance of about sixty miles, and passes through the richest, best cultivated and most densely populated portion of the State of Indiana.

The road is the CENTRAL SECTION of the otherwise completed TRUNK LINE, connecting the great Southwest at LOUISVILLE, Ky., on the Ohio River; and at an early day with TOLEDO and SANDUSKY, on Lake Erie.

The Company is wholly without debt (except its bonded debt) and being strong in its local traffic, and connecting with roads that must necessarily largely increase the volume of its revenues, the BOARD OF DIRECTORS, with great confidence, invite the attention of capitalists to these securities, believing that they offer an opportunity for a first-class railroad investment, than which, in their judgment, there is no better to be had.

The published exhibits of the Company, together with a map showing the locality and advantages of the Road, can be had from either of the Trustees of the Deed of Trust, in this City, named below, and from either of whom the bonds are only to be had.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR TIMBER AND MATERIALS FOR THE NAVY.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR, May 29, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish timber and materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1864, will be received at the Bureau of Construction and Repair until the 29th day of June next.

Proposals must be indorsed "Proposals for Timber and Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from other business letters, and directed to the Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair.

The materials and articles embraced in the classes named are particularly described in the printed schedules, any of which will be furnished to such as desire to offer, on application to the Commandants of the respective yards, or to the Navy Agent nearest thereto, and those of all the yards upon application to the Bureau. This division into classes being for the convenience of dealers in each, such portions only will be furnished as are actually required for bids. The Commandant and Navy Agent of each station will, in addition to the schedule of classes of their own yards, have a copy of the schedules of the other yards for examination only, from which it may be judged whether it will be desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

Offers must be made for the whole of the class at any yard upon one of the printed schedules, or in strict conformity therewith, or they will not be considered. In computing the classes the price stated in the column of prices will be the standard, and the aggregate of the class will be carried out according to the prices stated.

The schedule which the bidder incloses must be pasted to his offer, and each of them signed by him. Opposite each article in the schedule the price must be set, the amount carried out, the aggregate footed up for each class, and the amount likewise written in words. If the parties who bid do not reside near the place where the articles are to be delivered, they must name in their offer a person to whom orders on them are to be delivered.

The contracts will be awarded to the lowest bona fide bidder who gives proper security for its fulfillment. The United States reserves the right to reject all the bids for any class, if deemed exorbitant.

All articles must be of the very best quality, to be delivered in the navy yards in good order, and in suitable vessels and packages, properly marked with the name of the contractor, as the case may be, at the expense and risk of the contractor, and in all respects subject to the inspection, measurement, count, weight, &c., of the yard where received, and to the entire satisfaction of the Commandant thereof.

Bidders are referred to the Commandants of the respective yards for samples, instructions, or particular description of the articles; and, all other things being equal, preference will be given to articles of American manufacture.

Every offer, as required by the law of 10th August, 1846, must be accompanied by a written guarantee, the form of which is given below.

And also by a certificate signed by the Collector of Internal Revenue for the District in which the bidder resides, that he has a license to deal in the article for which he proposes, or by an affidavit signed by himself and sworn to before some magistrate authorized to administer such oath, that he is "a manufacturer of or regular dealer in the articles which he offers to supply."

Those only whose offers may be accepted will be notified, and the contract will be forwarded as soon thereafter as practicable, which they will be required to execute within ten days after the receipt at the post-office or Navy Agency named by them, and they will affix thereto the requisite Internal Revenue stamps.

The contracts will bear date the day the notification is given, and deliveries can be demanded.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility certified to by a United States District Judge, United States District-Attorney, Collector or Navy Agent. As additional security, twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contract shall have been completed; and eighty per centum of each bill, approved in triplicate by the commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Navy Agent at the points of delivery within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

It will be stipulated in the contract that if default be made by the parties of the first part in delivering all or any of the articles mentioned in any class bid for in the contract, of the quality and at the time and places above provided, then, and in that case, the contractor and his sureties will forfeit and pay to the United States a sum of money not exceeding twice the amount of such class, which may be recovered from time to time, according to the act of Congress in that case provided, approved March 3, 1843.

Bids must not contain classes for more than one yard in the same envelope, and bidders are requested to indorse on the envelope the Navy-yard for which the bid is made.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by Dr. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st. near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 25 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb unless this remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some unfortunate patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it; and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. It is $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. [illegible] 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

GERMAN INDIGNATION MEETING.

The Eleventh Army Corps Defended.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS.

Speeches by Hugo Wesendonck, Friederich Kapp, Weil von Gernsback and Gen. Von Gilsa.

In pursuance of a call which, for several days had occupied a conspicuous place in the German, and even in some of the English journals of this City, a large mass of our German residents came together, last evening, in the main hall of the Cooper Institute, to protest against the harsh, and, as they deem them, unjust criticisms applied to the German troops in the Eleventh Corps of the Army of the Potomac, recently repulsed at Chancellorsville.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, in the presence of some 2,000 persons, male and female, the latter forming no inconsiderable contingent, Hugo Wesendonck, Esq., was called to the Chair, and unanimously approved.

Some 154 Vice-Presidents and 27 Secretaries, embracing many names of weight and moment in this community, were nominated and accepted, and Mr. Wesendonck proceeded to open the proceedings of the meeting with some appropriate remarks, touching the constant patriotism and valor of the German troops in the armies of the Union throughout the entire past history of the war. He then entered into an elaborate explanation of the position of the Eleventh army corps when surprised, on the first day of the engagements near Chancellorsville, illustrating his remarks by reference, with the aid of a wand, to a large diagram of Fredericksburgh and Falmouth, the adjacent rivers and roads, and the tactical positions and movements of the respective forces. By this means he very clearly showed that the Eleventh corps was thrown off to an isolated and most perilous position on the extreme right of Hooker's line, and when assailed, was attacked simultaneously from three sides at once by an overwhelming force; that it most gallantly maintained its ground, so long as it was either practicable or reasonable to do so, and that the subsequent rout was the inevitable result of the faulty and discordant arrangements of the head commanding General. Moreover, the corps was much more largely composed of other than Germans, and the latter were not seized with panic, but rallied in solid array, the moment they could extricate themselves from the general mêlée. Hooker, in his fine plans for the surprise of the rebel army at Fredericksburgh, had not counted on Jackson. He had looked for the attack from a totally different quarter, and when it came as it did he was utterly bewildered and helpless. To cover up this wretched failure a scapegoat must be found, and the old spirit of nativism, still so vigorous, found that scapegoat in the German corps. [Applause.] But it is mistaken if it supposes that the Germans will tamely submit to such misrepresentation. [Renewed applause.] Mr. Wesendonck then asked why the Germans were thus selected. The Irish were not so treated. Their services were constantly exalted, and their returning regiments were constantly received with overwhelming honors. Now, there were German regiments returning. Did any one hear of grand preparations to greet them [No! No!], and why? The speaker found the reason in the failure of the Germans themselves to assert and maintain their just place in the political community. When they did so without fear or favor, they would be better considered and better treated. Mr. Wesendonck, again reverting to Chancellorsville, compared that battle to Magenta in many of its features. The Austrians there, lying between Patra and Piacenza, fronted south, expecting the French to attack them from that quarter. Gen. Count Stadion was even sent out to reconnoitre and found the French to the southward, when the minor battle of Montebello ensued. Upon that Gyulai, the Austrian commander, based his plan of battle, but he too had counted without his Jackson, the French Marshal McMahon, and was defeated. Yet the French did not sneer at their beaten adversaries, but said that they fought "like lions." [Great applause.]

In conclusion, he would reiterate that the blame of this as well as of other disasters belonged to such men as Hooker and Halleck, and not to the troops; and he had felt it to be a duty as well as a proud pleasure to unite in defending the German name wantonly and falsely vilified. [Prolonged cheering.]

Friedrich Kapp, Esq., was the next speaker. He alluded at the outset to Ferdinand Freiligrath, the great bard of Germany, who has likened his people to the character of Hamlet in Shakespeare's play of that name—full of strength and courage, but dreamy, abstracted, taken up with other things at the most decisive moments, and while the enemy was thundering on the coasts of Denmark, quarreling with his best friend and sinking to an inglorious grave.

Pursuing this simile, Mr. Kapp regretted the easy probability with which his countrymen in the United States allow the just meed of their efforts to be filched from them. From the first, throughout the war, they had been enthusiastic and devoted in the cause of the Republic. Lyons and Sigel had saved Missouri to the Union, and at St. Louis the Germans first organized to subdue the secession spirit, when not a dozen natives of the land were yet enlisted. Stahl and Willich, in Ohio and Indiana, had rendered like services, and at Bull Run the Blenker brigade had covered the disastrous retreat of the entire army, and saved Washington. As their history had been here, so had it been at home for untold centuries, and it was only the blind, bitter spirit of nativism that could here forget and deny it. They had not been mercenaries, but free, independent and coequal citizens, in war as in peace, and as such desired to be treated. [Great applause.] Hooker instead of attacking, waited to be attacked, and of the weak brigade he permitted to be surprised, only 4000 were Germans, while 7000 were of other nationalities, the whole commanded by a General of no experience whatever. [Applause.] Mr. Kapp here alluded with great indignation to the representations of the various papers, characterizing the Express with the utmost contempt. Mr. Greeley, he said, had recommended the shooting of the entire German Brigade. If that was to be done to all the divisions that had retired they would have to shoot the whole army, and Mr. Greely could then, with some reason, join the Apostle of Peace, Fernando Wood, on Wednesday evening and preach cessation of the war. [Applause and laughter.] Recommending a separate organization of the Germans throughout the land as a separate party of Freedom; the removal of the present Commander-in-Chief of the Union forces; the employment of Sigel and Fremont, amid the most enthusiastic plaudits for each proposition Mr. Kapp concluded his remarks.

Dr. Karl Kessmann then read the following resolutions:

Whereas, The causes of the repulse of the Army of the Potomac at Chancellorsville have been greatly misrepresented; and,

Whereas, False reports of the behavior of the German Volunteers in that battle have been widely circulated;

Be it resolved, That we hereby tender our heartfelt thanks to the German Volunteers serving in the army of the United States for their patriotism, their good conduct, and their gallantry shown on every battle-ground where they have been engaged. [Applause.]

That the Eleventh army corps was in its greater part composed of other than German troops, that it was in the battle of Chancellorsville, commanded by a new and untried general, and that its repulse cannot be ascribed to any want of bravery of the German officers and privates of the said corps;

That the repulse of the said corps was owing to its numerical weakness, to its exposed position, to the careless and unskillful manner in which its line of battle had been formed, and to the incompetency of its commander, who suffered it to be surrounded and surprised. [Applause.]

That we perceived with deep regret that many correspondents and editors were eager to misrepresent the behavior of the German volunteers in the battle of Chancellorsville by false and malicious slanders, and that many of our fellow-citizens, forgetful of the services which the German volunteers have rendered on all the battle grounds of the war, on that occasion have given vent to a nativistic feeling which we thought buried forever with the bodies of the patriots who are sleeping together in common graves without any distinction as to their nativity. [Tremendous cheering.]

That in our opinion the warnings of Gen. Sigel to strengthen the Eleventh army corps have been shamefully neglected, and that if he had commanded the corps, although even he would not have been able to cover up the leading mistakes of its position and weakness, yet his management of the corps would have prevented the confusion which ensued, and he would have brought his troops out of the fight covered with glory as he did at the battle of Carthage;

That it is alike unjust and impolitic to ascribe misfortunes in war, caused by the mistakes and blunders of our Generals, to the troops, and that such injustice contributes more to discourage enlistments than all the speeches of a Vallandigham or Wood; [great applause;]

That the loss of the battle at Chancellorsville was by no means exclusively caused by the repulse of the Eleventh army corps; that the said corps, on the contrary, soon after its repulse, rallied again, and did effective service during the battle; and that the loss of the battle is, in our opinion, owing to bad generalship on the part of the General Commanding, who failed to successfully manœuvre, use and handle the forces at his command. [Prolonged demonstrations.]

That the many defeats and fruitless battles of our armies are generally caused by a want of strategy and skill in manœuvering on the part of our commanding generals and by keeping at the head of the armies of the Union a General-in-Chief who does not enjoy the confidence of either the army or the people, and who has not proven by any of his acts either his generalship or his sympathy with the cause for which the armies of the Union are fighting. [Tumultuous cheering in which men and women alike vehemently joined.]

Mr. Weil Von Gernsbach followed in a characteristic and highly humorous address, in which he unmercifully satirized the strategy of the various leaders of the Army of the Potomac from McClellan to Hooker, and lashed the "venal press," bearing down with particular ferocity upon the German papers of the City which he said had been the first to catch up the slanders heaped upon the German soldiers, and the last to refute them while their facts and arguments were mere commonplaces filched from English cotemporaries as dogs snatch at cast-out bones. They had totally forgotten their mission, and what they did say was retailed in a language more resembling Chinese than German. This speech was received with unbounded laughter and applause, and every allusion to Gen. Fremont was a fresh signal for cheering.

Theodore Von Gilsa being loudly called for, bore warm testimony to the gallantry of the German troops he had commanded in the Eleventh corps at Chancellorsville. They did not retire, even under the attack of ten columns of the enemy, each one thousand strong, and were under cross-fire from the front and both flanks, until they had fired thrice and then they fell back under his orders, and he was willing to assume the responsibility. [Applause.] With a succession of rousing cheers for the German soldiers of the Eleventh corps and in all the armies of the Union, the meeting adjourned at a late hour.

THE TURF.

Trotting Match Between Robert Fillingham and Rockingham over the Fashion Course.

The match between these fine horses for $2,000, mile heats, best three in five, in harness, took place yesterday afternoon on the Course of the Fashion Pleasure Ground Association. Fillingham is a splendid brown stallion, and was the favorite of the turfmen, who bet two to one that he would beat the famous grey gelding Rockingham; and so well satisfied with him were they, that even after he had lost the first heat by a series of bad breaks, by which he lost a dozen lengths in the first half-mile—which was made by Rockingham in 1:14¼—they did not alter their opinion of his superior speed and endurance, and the extraordinary burst of speed by which Fillingham reduced the space in the last half-mile to a length and a half fully justified them in their course.

First Heat—They got off at the first attempt—for a wonder—Rockingham having the inside place, Fillingham breaking up as they entered the turn, and not getting down to a trot till Rockingham passed the quarter pole at least ten lengths ahead, and not at his full speed till Rockingham had passed the half-mile pole; the remainder of the mile was done by Rockingham in 1 min. 14¼ sec., and he came past the Judges' stand easily.

Second Heat—Rockingham led by half a length at the start, and increased his lead to three lengths at the quarter pole, which he passed in 35¼ sec.; from this point, Fillingham made a splendid burst of speed, and on the back stretch was neck and neck with Rockingham, and at the half-mile pole was half a length in front in 1:13, and came out twelve lengths in front of the gray as he passed the Judges' stand in 2:27½. It now became apparent that Rockingham was not in as good condition as he might have been, and his friends almost gave it up, but in order not to disappoint the two thousand persons who had come to witness this much talked of trotting match, his owner let him try for another heat, which he lost, and, to the great delight of those who could get to town in good time by the Flushing Railroad, he was withdrawn from the fourth heat, leaving the victory to Fillingham.

Third Heat.—Both went well together till nearing the quarter-pole, when Rockingham broke up and Fillingham passed on five lengths ahead; this was gradually reduced to three lengths at the three-quarter turn, when Rockingham broke up again, and Fillingham came over the score an easy winner by six lengths in 2:28¼.

Rockingham was driven by Sam. McLaughlin in fine style, and Fillingham was under the practiced hands of Mr. Horace F. Jones.

Gen. Butler and George M. Patchen.

The match, $5,000, two mile heats and repeat, in harness, between these fast ones, will no doubt draw thousands to-day to the Fashion Course. For the information of visitors, we have great pleasure in stating that the thieves and gamblers who plied their vocations on the occasion of the last trot, have been scared. They only made their appearance yesterday on the rail cars and station, from which places they will be expelled to-morrow, if the Flushing Railroad authorities exhibit a tithe of the enterprise and energy which Mr. Crocheron, the manager of the Fashion Course, has displayed by employing detectives to protect his visitors and arrest the offending rascals.

A word of advice to those who desire to witness in comfort, the contest between the horses, without being in too close proximity with the more exciting scenes attending the starting and finish of the race, may not, perhaps, be out of place. The start takes place from the old stand, but the leading turf patrons—the substantial men—are generally to be seen quietly seated on the new stand near the Mansion House Hotel, where there is excellent accommodation for ladies, in the reserved portion, which is inclosed, as well as on the piazzas, from all which points the best view of the contest can be had, with the additional advantage of having the best of attendance, and choicest of refreshments, without being annoyed by the rush which always occurs where thousands congregate.

General Butler.

The owner of Gen. Butler has offered to back him against the world, in three even races, for from $5,000 to $50,000.

The National Billiard Tournament.

SECOND DAY—FOX BEATS ESTEPHE—KAVANAGH BEATS SEEREITER.

The second day of the billiard tournament, or more properly, the second evening, attracted a much larger audience than the first. The contest commenced with a game between Fox and Estephe. The game lasted an hour and twenty-nine minutes and 33 innings. Fox beat Estephe 116 points. Fox's principal runs were 28, 72, 26, 28, 105, 29, and a "not out" of 28. Estephe's principal runs were 44, 39, 62, 53, and he elicited frequent applause for difficult shots neatly executed.

The next game, between Kavanagh and Seereiter, was regarded with considerable interest. In spite of his defeat by Foley much was expected from Seereiter. The odds were, however, in favor of Dudley, and $100 even were offered and taken that he would beat Seereiter 125 points. Up to the fifty-seventh shot Dudley lead handsomely, being as Seereiter commenced his 38th shot 171 ahead. Seereiter, however, made a beautiful run of 78, and by subsequent small runs got within 58 of Dudley. Kavanah, however, ran the game out with a splendid run of 110 points, and "not out," beating Seereiter 169 points, getting warm congratulations from his friends, and winning lots of money for them. His play was, as usual, cautious and safe always, nursing the balls skilfully, and seldom leaving a good position to his opponent. Seereiter seemed to play with some indifference, but was frequently applauded for really fine play.

Besides the crowd of billiard celebrities present, there were among the audience August Belmont, Daniel Appleton, John W. White, and other gentlemen distinguished in the world of commerce, of literature, and law, as well as a very few ladies in the gallery. The progress of the tournament will be watched with general interest. The following players are to contest to-day: Afternoon, at 3 o'clock—1. Deery against Fox; 2. Goldthwait against Seereiter. Evening, at 8 o'clock—1. Estephe against Kavanagh; 2. Fox against Foley.

After some preliminary conversation the meeting was organized, Judge Lawrence taking the Chair and Mr. Young acting as Secretary. The business of the meeting was simply to prepare for the Convention of to-day, and to consult as to the address and the resolutions.

The arrangements for the meeting were soon perfected, and will be found in the advertising columns.

On the address and resolutions, however, a lively debate arose, which continued during four hours.

Fernando Wood spoke an hour, and others occupied time in cautiously stating their positions and indicating their desires for the policy of the new party.

We have no space for the address nor for the resolutions. They will be presented at the assembling of the Convention at the Cooper Institute to-day.

Tuesday, June 2—P. M.

The price of Gold Coin was comparatively steady to-day, the sales at the Stock Exchange Board rating 147¼@146⅞ ₩ cent. After the Second Board the Street price was ¼@⅜ ₩ cent. higher, finally closing 147⅛ as against 146⅜ yesterday afternoon. The price of Bills on London for the Cunard steamer to-morrow was about 161 ₩ cent. on the actual sales of first-class signatures. As the mail will not close until noon to-morrow, the business for this packet is left open.

There was an active demand for Money in some quarters to-day from the Stock Brokers at 6@7 ₩ cent. on miscellaneous collateral. Loans are still made at 5 ₩ cent. on United States Securities, and the same rate is accepted on choice Merchant paper of short date. The balance in the Sub-Treasury continues gradually to increase, and has reached nearly thirty millions. The whole receipts to-day for the New Loan amount to $1,532,900 including $920,000 for account of the Loan Agent.

The Commercial of this afternoon says:

> "It was rumored late yesterday afternoon that the Secretary of the Treasury was about to discontinue or greatly circumscribe the loan agency of Mr. Jay Cooke for the conversion of United States currency into the 5-20 year stock, leaving the business wholly to the routine of the Treasury Office itself. On inquiry this morning, we find that nothing definite has been concluded on the subject."

We can add to the above, that the proposed reduction of the compensation to the Loan Agent, Mr. Jay Cooke, after the 1st June, has compelled him to discontinue the Sub-Agencies in this City, which have of late so efficiently promoted the public service, by inducing, through their widespread advertisements and circulars, large subscriptions to this Loan. The machinery thus inaugurated for the popular information and convenience, has certainly done more for the negotiation than it would have been possible to accomplish, in the absence of this private enterprise, through the ordinary circumlocution of the Treasury office. We hope, however, the change will work no serious embarrassment to the continued free conversion of United States Currency for the remaining brief period extended to this privilege at par. The applications direct to the Sub-Treasury in this City are already on the increase. They amount to $612,900 to-day.

There was a buoyant feeling early in the morning, on the Street, in Stocks and Gold, but the bidding fell off ½@1 ₩ cent. at the First Board, and was further weakened by the offers to sell the leading Railways on the Street, between the Boards. At the Second Board the same temper was again manifested—followed, however, by a partial improvement on the breaking up of the Board, between 3½ and 4 o'clock. The decline of the day was ultimately made 1 ₩ cent. each on Erie and Central, and about the same on Michigan Southern, while other of the Westerns fell off 1½@2 ₩ cent., and Harlem 2½ ₩ cent. The Government Securities were ½ ₩ cent. off. The Border State 6 ₩ cents. ½@1 ₩ cent. lower. The general market left off tame, at the following figures, as compared with Monday night:

The Erie Railway Company have notified the share and bondholders of the Long Dock Company that they are prepared to assume the entire ownership of the property by paying off both debt and stock, pursuant to the original terms of the agreement, on twelve months notice from 1st June, 1863. At present the Erie Company pay, by way of rental, 10 per cent. on $800,000 capital and the interest on the mortgages, ferry, taxes, &c. A new general mortgage for $3,000,000 is to be created on the Long Dock property, of which $1,700,000 is to pay off present stock and debt, viz.:

Capital stock	$800,000
Bonds of August, 1857	500,000
Real estate mortgages	400,000
Together	$1,700,000

Without waiting the expiration of the twelve months' notice, the stockholders are privileged to exchange at once their shares for the new bonds, receiving therefor a bonus of 3 per cent. in cash, being the difference between the dividend of 10 and the interest of 7 per cent. for the year.

The day's business at the Office of the Assistant Treasurer, United States, was as follows: Receipts $2,261,687 71; including for Customs, $164,000; Payments, $6,556,150 75; Balance, $24,557,719 50.

The week's exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods, (exclusive of Specie,) from the port of New-York, were decidedly heavy for the season, having amounted in value to $4,606,695, against $3,301,894 same week last year, and $2,938,188 the corresponding week of 1861.

Vallandigham in the Rebel Country, against his own protest, says everybody. This is unfortunately true. But, if Mr. Vallandigham had been wise, Gen. Burnside would never have bothered him. The fact is that Burnside is fond of Knox's Hats, and that Vallandigham not having one on his head, was marked for a victim. If you don't want to be arrested by a Provost-Marshal, wear one of Knox's newest Spring Style. Store No. 212 Broadway, northeast corner of Fulton.

ΙΩΔΗΣ.

OF ALL REMEDIAL AGENTS, IODINE stands preeminent. The amount of ability, zeal and assiduity which has been devoted to the elucidation of its effects upon the

has not been exceeded in the instance of any other article in Materia Medica, and it is acknowledged to possess very great powers in the cure of many obstinate diseases, over which other remedies have little or no influence.

Iodine was discovered in the year 1812, and received its name from the Greek word which heads this article. It is an elementary body, obtained from seaweed, is very volatile, and has great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

It acts upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM.

It neutralizes metallic mercury and all the mercurial compounds that can possibly occur in the living body.

THE TONIC

operation of Iodine is evinced by its strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility, an increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid.

The unparalleled success in private practice and the indorsement of

enables us to recommend

IODINE WATER.

A solution of pure Iodine in pure water, as a specific for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms, Consumption, Cancer, Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Female Weaknesses, Dyspepsia, Syphilis, and the only remedy for the successful eradication of Mercurial Disease.

Its genuineness as a pure solution, and its excellence as a medicine, are attested by Dr. Chilton, Prof. Parker, Prof. Booth, Dr. Whitney, and others equally known to science.

TESTIMONIALS MAY BE SEEN AT OUR OFFICE.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

READ REV. W. B. LEE'S LETTER.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 28, 1863.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: I have used your Bitters during the last six weeks, and feel it due to you and to the public to express my hearty approval of their effect upon me. I never wrote a "puff" for any one, and I abhor everything that savors of quackery. But your Bitters are entirely removed from the level of the mere nostrums of the day, being patent alike to all, and exactly what they profess to be. They are not advertised to cure everything, but they are recommended to assist nature in the alleviation and ultimate healing of many of the most common infirmities of the body, and this they will accomplish. I had been unwell for two months, as is usual with me during the Spring. I was bilious, and suffering from indigestion and a general disease of the mucous membrane, and though compelled to keep at work in the discharge of my professional duties, was very weak, of a yellow complexion, no appetite, and much of the time confined to my bed. When I had been taking your Bitters a week my vigor returned, the sallow complexion was all gone, I relished my food, and now I enjoy the duties of the mental application which so recently were so very irksome and burdensome to me. When I used your Bitters I felt a change every day. These are facts. All inferences must be made by each individual for himself.

Yours, respectfully,
W. B. LEE,
Pastor of Greene-av. Presbyterian Church.

READ E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH'S LETTER.

Prospect Cottage, Georgetown, D. C., April 2, 1863.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Gentlemen: It gives me pleasure to add my testimonial to those of others, in favor of your excellent preparation. Several years of residence on the banks of a Southern river, and of close application to literary work, had so thoroughly exhausted my nervous system, and undermined my health, that I had become a martyr to Dyspepsia, and Nervous Headache recurring at short intervals, and defying all known remedies in the Materia Medica. I had come to the conclusion that nothing but a total change of residence and pursuits would restore my health, when a friend recommended Hostetter's Bitters. I procured a bottle as an experiment. It required but one bottle to convince me that I had found at last the right combination of remedies. The relief it afforded me has been complete. It is now some years since I first tried Hostetter's Bitters, and it is but just to say that I have found the preparation all that it claims to be. It is a Standard Family Cordial with us; and even as a stimulant, we like it better than anything else; but we use it in all nervous, bilious and dyspeptic cases, from fever down to toothache. If what I have now said will lead any dyspeptic or nervous invalid to a sure remedy, I shall have done some good.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Respectfully yours,
E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

READ JOHN W. BRONAUGH'S LETTER.

Navy Department, Bureau of Yards and Docks, Dec. 30, 1862.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Gentlemen: About four years since my attention was called to your Celebrated Stomach Bitters, I being at the time a perfect martyr to Dyspepsia, in all of its terrific forms; indeed, I had not known for six years an uninterrupted night's sleep. I commenced the use of your Bitters, taking them according to your directions, except that the dose was reduced to one-half, and found myself much, very much benefited by the first bottle; the second relieved me entirely; but I have ever since taken a dose in the morning, immediately on rising, finding it to act as a Tonic and Appetizer of the most agreeable character. There is a peculiarity in the effect of your Bitters on me, which it may be well to state; if from any cause I shall be suffering never so acutely with the Headache, a dose of your Bitters relieves me in fifteen minutes. In conclusion, I say, with all sincerity and truth, I would not be returned to the state of health in which your Bitters found me, and from which they have unquestionably relieved me, for all the money in this world.

I am, with great respect, your obedient servant,
JOHN W. BRONAUGH, Chief Clerk.

READ SAMUEL BYERS' LETTER.

New Convalescent Camp, Near Alexandria, Va., May 24, 1863.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith:

Dear Sirs: Will you do me the favor to forward by express one-half dozen Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, with bill, for which I will remit you on receipt of same, as I am unable to procure your medicine here; and if I had a quantity it could be sold readily, as it is known to be the best preparation in use for diseases having their origin with a diseased stomach. I have used and sold hundreds of preparations, but your Bitters are superior to anything of the kind I am cognizant with. Indeed, no soldier should be without it, should he be ever so robust and healthy; for it is not only a Restorative, but a Preventive for almost all diseases a soldier is subject to. I have been afflicted with Chronic Indigestion, and no medicine has afforded me the relief yours has; and I trust you will lose no time in sending the Bitters ordered.

Yours, very respectfully,
SAMUEL BYERS, Hospt.
